GOP Applies Pressure For Airing of Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate investigation of Robert G. Baker—sweeping up a tangle of names, dates and deals—came under growing Republican pressure today to dig deeper and resolve a dispute involving presidential aide Walter Jenkins.

The possibility Jenkins, a long time assistant to President

Johnson, may be asked to testify arose as Republicans, branding a campaign issue, raised a cry of "possible perjury."

Special counsel L. P. McLendon of the Senate Rules Committee said he didn't know whether the White House assistant would be questioned about his disputed role in the sale of advertising time on the Johnson family television station in Austin, Tex., to an insurance man.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller demanded that the committee develop fully what Miller called a "direct conflict" in sworn statements by Jenkins and insurance man Don B. Reynolds, a witness in the Baker hearings.

He said there is "a clear issue of possible perjury" which should be followed through. The committee, in recess today, is investigating whether Baker, who resigned under fire on Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, engaged in business dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Reynolds, a local insurance agent with whom Baker was associated, has testified that at Jenkins' suggestion he agreed to buy the advertising time in connection with his sale of $100,000 in insurance on Johnson's life.

At the time Johnson was the Democratic leader of the Senate. Later, after Johnson had become vice president, the insurance was increased to $200,000. Jenkins denied in his sworn statement that he had knowledge "of any arrangements by which Reynolds purchased advertising time on the TV station."

Reynolds has disputed this and has said that not only he but Albert G. Young, president of the Mid-Atlantic Stainless Steel Corp. of Silver Spring, Md., a pots and pans manufacturer, discussed the television advertising with Jenkins.

7-Inch Snow Falls On Northeast U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cold air and strong winds spread into the Northeast today in the wake of a storm which dumped up to seven inches of snow in parts of New England. Temperatures were moderating across the chilled Midwest after a brief cold spell in which readings dropped below zero four days in northern areas.

The snow storm which hit the upper Ohio Valley and New England Tuesday tapered off during the night and early morning as it drifted out to sea.

Nationalists Silent on China Dispute

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — As France and Communist China struggled with the tough two-Chinas issue, Nationalist China waited quietly on the sidelines today. The feeling in Taipei was that President Chiang Kai-shek had outfoxed Mao Tze-tung.

Chiang's officials were elated at the dispute between Paris and Peking only a day after French President Charles de Gaulle's recognition of Communist China.

Red China's Foreign Ministry called on France Tuesday to break off relations with the Nationalists. A French spokesman replied Paris would continue to recognize the Taipei government.

The French spokesman also denied the Paris-Peking agreement to exchange ambassadors included a French pledge to sever diplomatic ties with the Nationalists.

Nationalist officials saw the dispute as evidence of a miscalculation by Mao, Red China's Communist party chief. They said Mao apparently expected Chiang to cut off relations with France in angry reaction to De Gaulle's recognition of Peking Monday.

Had the Nationalists broken with France, they would have solved Mao's problem. The Red leader, like Chiang, opposes the idea of two Chinas. Each regards his regime as the sole voice and legal representative of the Chinese people.

The Red Chinese failed to make clear what they would do if France continued its relations with Taipei. In Paris, a French spokesman said his government is seeking clarification of Peking's position.

Nationalist officials say the next move is up to Paris. They think Peking probably will not send an ambassador to Paris until France breaks relations (Continued on Page 2)

Bank Teller Almost Bluffs Lone Bandit

PAINEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A woman teller at the Lake County Federal Savings & Loan Association almost bluffed a man out of holding up the place Tuesday, but he got away with $6,065.

A man about age 25 walked up to the window of Mrs. David Burris, a 22-year-old teller, and handed her a paper sack and a note which read:

"This is a stickup. Put the money in the bag. Don't try anything because I have a gun under my jacket."

Mrs. Burris handed the sack and note back to him. "I'm sorry," she said, "but my window is closed. You'll have to take this to another teller."

Witnesses said the man looked as if he would flee after the window was closed in his face, but walked up to the window of Judy Hanusosky, 20, and handed her the note.

Mrs. Burris started to leave, but the man ordered her back. He then ordered both women to fill the bag from Miss Hanusosky's cash drawer and walked out of the bank.

Soviet Says It Shot Down Yank Jet over East Germany; 3 Die

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said today a U.S. Air Force plane missing in East Germany was shot down by a Communist fighter plane and all three men aboard were killed.

The mystery of the fate of the plane and its crew was dispelled in a Soviet protest note on the incident handed to U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler.

The Soviet announcement said the plane "did not react" to warning fire from a Soviet fighter plane in the area of Weimar.

"Therefore, the Soviet fighter had to take measures in compliance with air defense instructions which are well known to the American command," a Soviet note said.

"As a result, the intruder plane crashed near Vogelsberg village, 20 kilometers (12 miles) northeast of Erfurt."

As distributed by Tass, the Soviet note said:

"The Soviet government cannot regard this intrusion other than as a gross provocation by the American military authorities, aimed at aggravating the situation in central Europe."

Tass said the Soviet Union had warned repeatedly that resolute steps would be taken against the intrusion of military aircraft into the air space of Communist East Germany.

"The Soviet government," the note added, "deems it necessary to stress that all responsibility for this regrettable incident rests with the authorities of the United States."

The U.S. plane a T39 jet trainer, was tracked by Air Force radar for 11 minutes Tuesday heading into East Germany at about 450 miles an hour.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane was not authorized to cross the Iron Curtain and could not be reached by radio. He said the Air Force didn't consider there was "the slightest possibility" that the three officers were defecting.

The Air Force said the officers aboard the plane were Lt. Col. Gerald K. Hannaford, 41, Capt. John F. Lorraine Jr., 34, and Capt. Donald G. Millard, 33.

Hannaford has been in the Air Force for 24 years and flew 63 missions in the China-Burma-India theater in World War II and 50 missions during the Korean War. He had planned to retire next year.

Lorraine flew about 80 missions in Korea and was assigned to Germany about 18 months ago. He joined the Air Force in 1948.

Shot Labeled As Heaviest On Record

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Saturn 1 superrocket propelled the world's heaviest satellite into orbit today and presumably vaulted the United States over Russia in the race for space rocket supremacy.

The mighty rocket, 164 feet tall and weighing 562 tons, flooded its launching pad with a rush of flame and sent a thunderous shock wave rolling across Cape Kennedy as it blasted off at 11:25 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, on its first full-scale test flight.

Slightly more than 10 minutes later, the Saturn 1—its second stage live for the first time—ejected into orbit a mammoth 84-foot-long satellite weighing 37,700 pounds, nearly three times heavier than the Soviet heavyweight champions of space.

The satellite is little more than a mass of metal and sand with a radio tracking beacon. But its presence in the sky demonstrates U.S. capability for the future and the nation's determination to grasp the space rocket power lead.

No scientific value was attached to the huge satellite because of the research nature of the flight.

On the test, the Saturn 1—runner of rockets which will boost U.S. astronauts to the moon—chalked up milestone performances.

For the first time, its massive eight-engine first stage power plant developed full thrust of 1.5 million pounds—equal to 34 million horsepower, or enough to power more than 200,000 standard automobiles. On four earlier flights of the first stage only, the thrust was held to 1.3 million pounds.

The second stage, a cluster of six motors driven by high-energy liquid hydrogen fuel, was flown alive for the first time and provided the muscle to shove the satellite into orbit.

That stage, cutting in after the first had burned 145 seconds, delivered 90,000 pounds of thrust.

Saturn 1's claim to the title of world's most powerful rocket is based on official U.S. estimates that its first stage generates about 50 per cent more thrust than Russia's largest booster and the fact that there is no evidence of Soviet progress with (Continued on Page 2)

Once Around Roundtown

A MESSAGE, tied to a small boy's gas filled balloon and released, came back home today.

Richard Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walters, Route 4, tied the card to a balloon and released it at about 6 p. m. Friday night. It was discovered by Gilbert D. Smith, a farmer who resides near Tippecanoe, 125 miles from Circleville, at 9 a. m. the next day.

Smith placed the card in a letter and mailed it back to young Walters.

This is no new experience for the Walters family. . . An older son, Ed, who is an officer in the United States Navy, once threw a bottle containing a message into the Mediterranean Sea. . . He, too, heard from the finder, a citizen of Italy.

RUMOR has it that the many women's guild of Berger Hospital are making plans for spring staging of a local talent show. . . Talent for the revue will be drawn from the ranks of Pickaway Countians. . . A detailed announcement concerning the project is expected to be made next week.

TALK OF spring is in the air as we approach Groundhog's Day on Sunday. . . Actually spring will arrive officially in another 52 days and according to the Old Farmer's Almanac it will be welcomed after February's wintry weather. . . The first week of February is forecast by the almanac as "Helter-skelter, three big storms almost together," and later in the month, "You'll perspire only by the fire."

The State Department in Washington said any move to destroy the bombers of all nations was neither acceptable nor practical.

But it expressed hope Tsar apkin's proposal meant the Russians would look with favor on an informal suggestion Secretary of State Dean Rusk made to Soviet officials in Moscow last summer. Rusk suggested that big powers destroy nuclear bombers as they became obsolete lest they fall into the hands of non-nuclear nations.

Rusk suggested destruction on a one-for-one basis of U.S. B47s and Soviet Badger bombers. His suggestion would not apply to such supersonic bombers as the U.S. B58 and the Soviet Boudier.

The House passed the measure unanimously Monday and sent it to the Senate.

In addition to appropriating funds for the impacted school districts the bill would provide funds for three other programs authorized by Congress—

—$41 million for construction of community mental health centers and research into mental health and retardation.

—$31.2 million for expansion of the college loan program under the National Defense Education Act.

—$600,000 for continuing the Mexican farm labor program for one year.

'Bama Governor Uncertain About Campaign in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said today he will decide by Feb. 4 whether to enter Ohio's May 5 Democratic primary.

He said he seeks to demonstrate sentiment over states rights and national administration policies.

The southern governor's news conference was picketed by persons identified as members of the Congress of Racial Equality.

Wallace said he has received thousands of letters from Ohioans and others throughout the nation expressing concern over what he termed federal domination of state affairs.

The southern governor told about 50 reporters he would decide "by Feb. 4," the day before Ohio's candidate filing deadline, whether to seek national convention delegates in the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati areas.

Asserting he has no hope of beating state Democratic organization candidates for delegates, Wallace said a 5 per cent primary vote for his entries would demonstrate strong sentiment for his policies.

"It would cause some thinking in the councils of both parties," Wallace observed.

During the news conference in the new Columbus Plaza Hotel, a dozen sign-carrying pickets marched outside.

They were identified as members of the Congress of Racial Equality by the Rev. Arthur Zebbs, Negro Columbus pastor and chairman of the local CORE chapter.

Zebbs was denied entrance to the third floor press conference. He sought to ask Wallace a question as the gathering broke up but Wallace departed without answering.

Pickets identified as members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) picketed the hotel Tuesday night upon the arrival of Wallace and his aides.

Wallace said he would return to Alabama later today or Thursday.

Rocky Talks Progressive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, swinging hard at political extremists, is keying his California campaign to the progressive line.

Rockefeller's jabs were directed at Sen. Barry Goldwater, who intends to oppose him in the California presidential primary; at extremists of both the right and the left, and at President Johnson.

Rockefeller throughout his San Francisco area appearances emphasized that he and his newly named California chairman, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, intend to stage a fighting campaign.

Rockefeller, while designating Kuchel as chairman of both his California drive and of his proposed slate of delegates, said it was too early to speculate whether the senator would be his choice for vice president

Red Bomber Destruction Plan Shunned

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. officials have rejected a Soviet call for destruction of all the world's bomber fleets. But they were hopeful it signified a Russian interest in an American suggestion to keep obsolete bombers from smaller nations.

The bomber proposal was put forth at the Geneva disarmament conference Tuesday by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin. Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster said he would like to discuss it in detail.

The State Department in Washington said any move to destroy the bombers of all nations was neither acceptable nor practical.

But it expressed hope Tsar apkin's proposal meant the Russians would look with favor on an informal suggestion Secretary of State Dean Rusk made to Soviet officials in Moscow last summer. But Bucheister insisted that three federal bird sanctuaries on the nearby uninhabited atolls of Pearl and Hermes Reef, Laysan and Lisianski, must remain "absolutely inviolate."

Gassing the gooneys in big trucks is a body blow for the birds who for more than 20 years have resisted all efforts to move them from the two square miles of land they share with

Republicans Eye 'Go-Day'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican chieftains fan out across the country tonight for 21 rallies aimed at fattening the party's war chest and whipping up campaign enthusiasm.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and several GOP presidential hopefuls head the speakers' lists for "go-day" dinners.

They'll address an expected 25,000 party faithful in a one-hour, closed-circuit television program.

From New York to Los Angeles, Republicans hope to wipe out the $225,000 deficit that still remains from the 1960 presidential campaign.

Eisenhower will speak from Detroit, while New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater—both declared presidential aspirants—are scheduled to talk from Los Angeles and Pittsburgh.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller will speak from Cleveland, while Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky will be in Houston, Tex.

The televised portion is also to carry speeches by these three Republicans who have denied they are presidential candidates but have indicated a willingness to accept a draft.

Michigan Gov. George Romney in Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in Indianapolis and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in New York.

Non televised GOP dinners in other cities will be addressed by some of the party's congressional leaders and governors.

Meanwhile, the rapidly filling New Hampshire primary field was reduced by one. Former Gov. Wesley Powell pulled out Tuesday in favor of Nixon, whom he called the logical choice for the nomination.

Young Thug Shocked By Bank Aide, Flees

CLEVELAND (AP)—A would-be robber handed bank teller Harry Travers a note Tuesday reading: "Give me all your $20 bills."

Reaction of Travers, a teller at the main office of the Cleveland Trust Co., was:

"Are you nuts?"

The startled youth nodded. Travers told police, then turned and walked away. The youth vanished by the time guards began searching for him.

Audubons Doom Gooneys

HONOLULU (AP) — The nation's top bird lover has sanctioned the destruction of Midway Island's Gooneys—within limits.

The Gooney bird is known technically as a Blackfoot or Laysan albatross. To the Navy flier he is known as a menace. There are 250,000 of the birds squatting on Midway Island, a mid-Pacific atoll 1,312 miles northwest of here.

Carl W. Bucheister, president of the Audubon Society, was invited to visit Midway by Navy authorities, admittedly nervous that their proposal to kill the big, white birds with gas would raise the ire of bird lovers.

Bucheister returned here with

3,000 servicemen and dependents.

The people don't mind having the birds nesting in their yards, playing with the family dog, or making friends with the children. There's even a law making a sailor liable to court-martial if he's caught molesting a Gooney.

But the people of Midway, along with Navy officials, are concerned about the danger to men and aircraft.

Only birds that nest near the runways are being hustled to the gas chamber. They number about 20,000. The remaining 230,000 will be left to their own devices if they behave themselves.

Cigarette Ban Spreads

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of several states have banned the sale of cigarettes in some government buildings, including hospitals.

They cite reports by the U.S. surgeon general, and private research, on the health hazards of smoking cigarettes.

Some private hospitals also have ordered cigarette vending machines removed. Miriam Hospital in Providence, R. I., put up signs saying: "We do not sell cigarettes. We love you too much."

In many areas, public officials ordered strict enforcement of laws, some decades old, against selling cigarettes to minors.

The National Association of Broadcasters, meeting in Florida, is expected to amend its code of self-regulation to forbid programs or commercials that might tend to encourage young people to smoke.

The major television and radio networks have said they are reviewing their policies on commercials.

A survey by The Associated Press indicated today that efforts by government officials to discourage smoking by educational campaigns are fairly widespread. Outright bans of cigarette sales are less prevalent.

Public Health hospitals in Massachusetts have been ordered to discontinue sales of cigarettes in canteens and to remove vending machines.

Pennsylvania banned cigarette sales in its four hospitals for tuberculosis and is considering banning them in the state's general and mental hospitals.

California's Public Health Department banned cigarette vending machines from all its buildings last July after a state report on smoking hazards.

The University of Minnesota's hospitals and the Rochester (N.Y.) Institute of Technology have banned cigarette machines.

New York State and California are among the states that plan to tell school children about the hazards of smoking.

Sukarno Irked By Leaflets In Borneo

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia's President Sukarno raised new doubts today about the precarious 5-day-old cease-fire in the guerrilla war along the Malaysian frontier.

Sukarno said Malaysian planes had dropped leaflets in the North Borneo jungle calling on Borneo "freedom fighters" to surrender.

"We will not accept this kind of cease-fire," he said. Sukarno ordered Foreign Minister Subandrio to find out the full content of the leaflets which he said were signed by Donald Stephens, chief minister of Malaysia's Sabah State (formerly British North Borneo).

Sukarno said he "woke up this morning very startled when I read Donald Stephens had issued a cease-fire order that differed from the Indonesian one." Indonesia ordered its forces in Borneo to stand fast and stop fighting. But the Malaysian government in Kuala Lumpur said it had dropped leaflets telling any guerrillas on the Malaysian side of the frontier—Indonesian or Malaysian—to lay down their arms and display a white flag.

Once Around Roundtown

A MESSAGE, tied to a small boy's gas filled balloon and released, came back home today.

Richard Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walters, Route 4, tied the card to a balloon and released it at about 6 p. m. Friday night. It was discovered by Gilbert D. Smith, a farmer who resides near Tippecanoe, 125 miles from Circleville, at 9 a. m. the next day.

Smith placed the card in a letter and mailed it back to young Walters.

This is no new experience for the Walters family. . . An older son, Ed, who is an officer in the United States Navy, once threw a bottle containing a message into the Mediterranean Sea. . . He, too, heard from the finder, a citizen of Italy.

RUMOR has it that the many women's guild of Berger Hospital are making plans for for spring staging of a local talent show. . . Talent for the revue will be drawn from the ranks of Pickaway Countians. . . A detailed announcement concerning the project is expected to be made next week.

TALK OF spring is in the air as we approach Groundhog's Day on Sunday. . . Actually spring will arrive officially in another 52 days and according to the Old Farmer's Almanac it will be welcomed after February's wintry weather. . . The first week of February is forecast by the almanac as "Helter-skelter, three big storms almost together," and later in the month, "You'll perspire only by the fire."

House Quickly OKs Aid Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only five minutes of talk the House has swiftly approved $216 million for school districts swollen with children of federal employees.

Legislation authorizing the funds was passed last December but the administration didn't ask for the money until last week.

The House passed the measure unanimously Monday and sent it to the Senate.

In addition to appropriating funds for the impacted school districts the bill would provide funds for three other programs authorized by Congress—

—$41 million for construction of community mental health centers and research into mental health and retardation.

—$31.2 million for expansion of the college loan program under the National Defense Education Act.

—$600,000 for continuing the Mexican farm labor program for one year.

'Bama Governor Uncertain About Campaign in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said today he will decide by Feb. 4 whether to enter Ohio's May 5 Democratic primary.

He said he seeks to demonstrate sentiment over states rights and national administration policies.

The southern governor's news conference was picketed by persons identified as members of the Congress of Racial Equality.

Wallace said he has received thousands of letters from Ohioans and others throughout the nation expressing concern over what he termed federal domination of state affairs.

The southern governor told

Red Bomber Destruction Plan Shunned

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. officials have rejected a Soviet call for destruction of all the world's bomber fleets. But they were hopeful it signified a Russian interest in an American suggestion to keep obsolete bombers from smaller nations.

The bomber proposal was put forth at the Geneva disarmament conference Tuesday by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin. Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster said he would like to discuss it in detail.

The State Department in Washington said any move to destroy the bombers of all nations was neither acceptable nor practical.

But it expressed hope Tsarapkin's proposal meant the Russians would look with favor on an informal suggestion Secretary of State Dean Rusk made to Soviet officials in Moscow last summer. Rusk suggested that big powers destroy nuclear bombers as they became obsolete lest they fall into the hands of non-nuclear nations.

Rusk suggested destruction on a one-for-one basis of U.S. B47s and Soviet Badger bombers. His suggestion would not apply to such supersonic bombers as the U.S. B58A and the Soviet Bander.

Missile Personnel Give Boy Blood

CINCINNATI (AP) — More than 100 military personnel have given blood to a Clermont County boy burned severely when his kite snagged on an electrical wire.

The men donated the blood Tuesday after reading about 12-year-old Harry Adkins in a newspaper story.

Harry and a playmate, David Hicks, 8, were flying the kite, using thin wire instead of string, when it caught on the high voltage line last week.

David was killed.

Harry is in critical condition in Children's Hospital here. The blood donors are members of the 5th Missile Battalion of the 56th Artillery. They came from the headquarters of the unit at Wilmington and others from stations at Felicity and Oxford, Ohio, and Dillsboro, Ind.

Republicans Eye 'Go-Day'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican chieftains fan out across the country tonight for 21 rallies aimed at fattening the party's war chest and whipping up campaign enthusiasm.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and several GOP presidential hopefuls head the speakers' lists for "go-day" dinners.

They'll address an expected 25,000 party faithful in a one-hour, closed-circuit television program.

From New York to Los Angeles, Republicans hope to outdo the $225,000 deficit that still remains from the 1960 presidential campaign.

Eisenhower will speak from Detroit, while New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater — both declared presidential aspirants—are scheduled to talk from Los Angeles and Pittsburgh.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller will speak from Cleveland, while Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky will be in Houston, Tex.

The televised portion is also to carry speeches by these three Republicans who have denied they are presidential candidates but have indicated a willingness to accept a draft.

Michigan Gov. George Romney in Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in Indianapolis and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in New York.

Non televised GOP dinners in other cities will be addressed by some of the party's congressional leaders and governors.

Meanwhile, the rapidly filling New Hampshire primary field was reduced by one. Former Gov. Wesley Powell pulled out Tuesday in favor of Nixon, whom he called the logical choice for the nomination.

Young Thug Shocked By Bank Aide, Flees

CLEVELAND (AP)—A would-be robber handed bank teller Harry Travers a note Tuesday reading: "Give me all your $20 bills."

Reaction of Travers, a teller at the main office of the Cleveland Trust Co., was: "Are you nuts?"

The startled youth nodded. Travers told police, then turned and walked away. The youth vanished by the time guards began searching for him.

Rocky Talks Progressive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, swinging hard at political extremists, is keying his California campaign to the progressive line.

Rockefeller's jabs were directed at Sen. Barry Goldwater, who intends to oppose him in the California presidential primary; at extremists of both the right and the left, and at President Johnson.

Audubons Doom Gooneys

HONOLULU (AP) — The nation's top bird lover has sanctioned the destruction of Midway Island's Gooneys — within limits.

The Gooney bird is known technically as a Blackfoot or Laysan albatross. To the Navy flier he is known as a menace. There are 250,000 of the birds squatting on Midway Island, a mid-Pacific atoll 1,312 miles northwest of here.

Carl W. Bucheister, president of the Audubon Society, was invited to visit Midway by Navy authorities, admittedly nervous that their proposal to kill the big, white birds with gas would raise the ire of bird lovers.

Bucheister returned here with a reassuring message.

"They have one of the most humane methods of eliminating the birds. . . and Midway has only a part of the world's population of albatross. If it's necessary in the future to eliminate more of the birds, there is still a good reservoir of albatross on islands leeward."

But Bucheister insisted that three federal bird sanctuaries on the nearby uninhabited atolls of Pearl and Hermes Reef, Lisianski and Laysan, must remain "absolutely inviolate."

Gassing the gooneys in big trucks is a body blow for the birds who for more than 20 years have resisted all efforts to move them from the two square miles of land they share with

3,000 servicemen and dependents.

The people don't mind having the birds nesting in their yards, playing with the family dog, or making friends with the children. There's even a law making a sailor liable to court-martial if he's caught molesting a Gooney.

Commission Approves Funds For Regional Planning Unit

The transfer of $400 to a regional planning and zoning fund was approved this week by the Board of County Commissioners.

Authorization of the money came following an appearance before the county solons by members of the Regional Planning Commission. Speaking in behalf of the planning unit were Ned Harden, chairman of the panel, and William Richards, and Lawrence Liston.

According to chairman Harden, the $400 which currently represents the fund's total, will be used to launch some of the necessary projects the planning body has outlined in its program.

Participating in the session before the Commissioners was County Engineer Henry McCrady.

HARDEN said availability of adequate maps of the county will be essential in future planning work by his Regional Commission. It was learned that satisfactory maps of land east of the Scioto River are filed here. However, they are lacking for areas west of the Scioto. The possibility of obtaining an up-to-date aerial map of the county was discussed. The only one available at this time was made in 1937, the planning chairman reported.

Harden said early work of the planning body will include a look into rules and regulations governing access to county roads. The objective will be to obtain conformity in all townships, planned on a uniform basis.

The planning chairman, encouraged by the Commission's move for financial support, said attempts will be made to carry out other initial phases of the regional program.

Harden said he hopes to set up a meeting in March with the County Trustees Assn. for a review and discussion of the program. A meeting of Regional Commission officials also is tentatively planned for March.

Rusk said any reduction of the 50,000-man U.S. garrison in Korea or of the 600,000-man South Korean army was out of the question at present. He dismissed the possibility "promptly and clearly" when Park mentioned rumors of impending reductions, presidential secretary Lee Hu-rak said.

Shot Labeled

Liquid hydrogen fuel. The rocket spewed a torrent of flame from its base and sent a thunderous roar rolling across Cape Kennedy as its engines flashed to life, feeding on 475 tons of fuel.

The enormous rocket rose slowly at first but picked up speed quickly.

About 10 seconds after liftoff, Saturn 1 began a gradual pitch to a southeast heading, spurring a tail of flame more than 300 feet long as it streaked into the sky. It vanished from sight in a low cloud bank about 40 seconds after launching.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the first stage had shut down as planned and the second stage had ignited. An announcement said all phases of the flight appeared normal up to that point, and that the second stage was continuing to burn.

The shot was delayed more than an hour by radio interference which affected a tracking radar and the radio frequency on which the range safety officer would send a signal to destroy the rocket in case it strayed off course.

The radar trouble was traced to a ship offshore. The ship turned off its signal when it was advised, and the other interference was cleared up soon afterward.

When the trouble arose the countdown had reached 13 minutes, but one system aboard the rocket had to be turned off during the wait, so the count was set back to 25 minutes when it was resumed.

The massive vehicle was intended to propel into orbit a 37,700-pound satellite, nearly three times as heavy as any previous man-made satellite.

The 164-foot-tall, 562-ton rocket is 13 feet taller and more than twice as heavy as the Saturn 1 series with a live second stage, a cluster of six engines which burn high-energy liquid hydrogen fuel. Four earlier flights of the first stage were successful.

Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy chief of the space agency, said in early January that the United States was drawing close to the Soviet Union in rocket power and added that "as soon as the Saturn satellite has been placed in orbit we will have relieved this deficiency in weight carrying ability we've labored under so long."

As the Saturn 1 rumbled upward, a crew on another Cape Kennedy launching pad readied the Ranger 6 spacecraft for a flight to take closeup pictures of the moon's surface. The shot is scheduled Thursday morning.

Russia's 14,292-pound Sputniks 7 and 8, launched in 1961, are the heaviest satellites sent up earlier. The United States' heavyweight entry was the 10,200-pound Centaur fired in November.

Because of the test nature of today's flight, the Saturn 1 payload had only a limited scientific mission. Most of the weight consisted of 11,600 pounds of sand for ballast and the 13,500-pound second-stage motor casing, designed to remain attached.

A radio beacon was aboard for tracking, and there was a great array of equipment to report performance of the vehicle itself.

The big Soviet rocket has been operational several years. The Saturn 1 will not achieve that status for at least a year, although upcoming test flights this year will carry useful satellites.

Some sources have reported Russia is developing a three-million-pound thrust booster. The United States is working on the 7.5-million-pound thrust Saturn 5, the rocket intended to propel three American astronauts toward the moon late in this decade.

Churches Urged To Use New 'Space Age Energy'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A prominent church leader has called for the application of space age energy to problems faced by the nation's churches.

Dr. Jon L. Regier of New York, executive secretary of the National Council of Churches' Division of Homes and Missions, spoke Tuesday night at the 45th annual Ohio Pastors Convocation.

"If we would really dream big," he said, "we could solve many of our problems by devoting to them the same type of energy that is being devoted to the moon shot."

Dr. Regier referred to the moon shot program as "a vast, legitimized WPA project to keep our economy going."

"Why can't we put that effort into some of our social problems?" he asked.

The clergymen were scheduled to hear today the first Roman Catholic speaker in the convocation's history.

The Rev. Frederick R. McManus of Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., was to speak on "The Second Vatican Council and Christian Unity."

Dr. Regier spoke Tuesday night at the 40th annual dinner of the Town and Country Department of the Ohio Council of Churches, held in connection with the convocation. Earlier, he spoke to the entire convocation. Other speakers included Maj. Gen. Robert P. Taylor, chief of Air Force chaplains.

Gen. Taylor's address, "The Fulfillment of Our Ministry," dealt with challenges facing people today.

He said people are challenged not only by those things which threaten their way of life but also by those things which enrich it.

Rep. Wallace On Panel for Oil, Gas Study

Ed Wallace, Pickaway County Representative to the Ohio General Assembly, has been appointed to the Legislative Study Committee relating to the state's oil and gas drilling laws and regulations.

The appointment was made by Roger Cloud, speaker of the House of Representatives.

The House has already adopted a resolution requesting the Legislative Service Commission to study laws governing oil and gas production. The measure calls for special emphasis on safety and conservation practices.

Findings and recommendations of the service commission are to be reported to the next session of the General Assembly.

The resolution, HR 108, points out that the extraction of oil and natural gas is becoming an activity of increasing importance to the economy of Ohio. It also notes that extractive techniques have improved more rapidly than the state's ability to regulate the industry, with the result that some operations appear to be wasteful and potentially dangerous.

DREAMING

Q. Is it true that dreams last only a few seconds even though they seem to progress at a rate comparable to real experience?

A. Recent investigations show that dreams do not occur instantaneously. In a typical night, four or five dreams take place. The initial dream is about 10 minutes in length. After a period of about 1½ hours of sleep, a second dream occurs which lasts about 20 minutes. Further sleep is followed by a dream of about 25 minutes and still more sleep by a dream of about 28 minutes. Although everyone has his own pattern, the average total dream period night after night is very consistent, making up 18 to 20% of sleep time. Dream recall, seldom occurs unless the subject awakens during or shortly after the dream.

CIGARETTE SMOKING

Q. I'd like a simple, direct answer to this question: Why do people smoke cigarettes?

A. Frankly, we don't know and it seems that smokers don't know either. A surprising proportion of smokers express dissatisfaction with their smoking habits. One regular smoker in eight does not even consider smoking pleasurable. Another 58% report that although they enjoy smoking they do not consider it worth the cost. Only 14% of regular smokers report that they consider the habit pleasurable, safe and worth the cost!

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby was whisked secretly Tuesday to a clinic where he underwent a neurological examination with three court-appointed psychiatrists as observers. The results of the tests and the reports of the three psychiatrists are not expected to be made public until the balking 52-year-old nightclub operator goes on trial for the nationally televised killing of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Ruby's trial is set for Feb. 17. Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown ordered the neurological tests a week ago.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk assured South Korean President Chung Hee Park today there will be no cutback in U.S. troops stationed in Korea, a high Korean official reported.

Rusk said any reduction of the 50,000-man U.S. garrison in Korea or of the 600,000-man South Korean army was out of the question at present. He dismissed the possibility "promptly and clearly" when Park mentioned rumors of impending reductions, presidential secretary Lee Hu-rak said.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma football coach, who says he is interested in switching to a career in politics, changed his voter registration today from Democrat to Republican.

It has been rumored that Wilkinson is considering running for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Oklahoma's junior Democratic senator, J. Howard Edmondson.

WAYNESVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Brenda Frimire, 17 months, liked to eat old cigarette butts. It worried her mother.

A neighbor saw what she thought were cigarette burns on the child's hands and face. Tuesday she called police.

Pfc. John Frimire, 23, stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, and his wife, Bonnie, 20, were arrested and jailed on an open charge.

Police Chief Noel Martin said Mrs. Frimire "admitted putting matches to the baby's mouth and face immediately after the flame had been extinguished. She said she wanted to break Brenda of the habit of eating cigarettes from ash trays."

Brenda was hospitalized with severe mouth and facial burns.

CAIRO (AP)—Informed sources said today that President Tito of Yugoslavia is expected to visit Cairo next month to confer with President Nasser on preparations for a second conference of nonaligned nations.

The first conference was held in Belgrade in September 1961.

Shot Labeled

The rocket spewed a torrent of flame from its base and sent a thunderous roar rolling across Cape Kennedy as its engines flashed to life, feeding on 475 tons of fuel.

The enormous rocket rose slowly at first but picked up speed quickly.

About 10 seconds after liftoff, Saturn 1 began a gradual pitch to a southeast heading, spurring a tail of flame more than 300 feet long as it streaked into the sky. It vanished from sight in a low cloud bank about 40 seconds after launching.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported 150 seconds after launching that the first stage had shut down as planned and the second stage had ignited. An announcement said all phases of the flight appeared normal up to that point, and that the second stage was continuing to burn.

The shot was delayed more than an hour by radio interference which affected a tracking radar and the radio frequency on which the range safety officer would send a signal to destroy the rocket in case it strayed off course.

The radar trouble was traced to a ship offshore. The ship turned off its signal when it was advised, and the other interference was cleared up soon afterward.

When the trouble arose the countdown had reached 13 minutes, but one system aboard the rocket had to be turned off during the wait, so the count was set back to 25 minutes when it was resumed.

The massive vehicle was intended to propel into orbit a 37,700-pound satellite, nearly three times as heavy as any previous man-made satellite. The 164-foot-tall, 562-ton rocket is 13 feet taller and more than twice as heavy as the Statute of Liberty. It is the first of the Saturn 1 series with a live second stage, a cluster of six engines which burn high energy liquid hydrogen fuel. Four earlier flights of the first stage were successful.

Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy chief of the space agency, said in early January that the United States was drawing closer to the Soviet Union in rocket power and added that "as soon as the Saturn satellite has been placed in orbit we will have relieved this deficiency in weight carrying ability we've labored under so long."

As the Saturn 1 rumbled upward, a crew on another Cape Kennedy launching pad readied the Ranger 6 spacecraft for a flight to take closeup pictures of the moon's surface. The shot is scheduled Thursday morning.

Russia's 14,292-pound Sputniks 7 and 8, launched in 1961, are the heaviest satellites sent up earlier. The United States' heavyweight entry was the 10,200-pound Centaur fired in November.

Because of the test nature of today's flight, the Saturn 1 payload had only a limited scientific mission. Most of the weight consisted of 11,600 pounds of sand for ballast and the 13,500-pound second-stage motor casing, designed to remain attached.

A radio beacon was aboard for tracking, and there was a great array of equipment to report performance of the vehicle itself.

The big Soviet rocket has been operational several years. The Saturn 1 will not achieve that status for at least a year, although upcoming test flights this year will carry useful satellites.

Some sources have reported Russia is developing a three-million-pound thrust booster. The United States is working on the 7.5-million-pound thrust Saturn 5, the rocket intended to propel three American astronauts toward the moon late in this decade.

Churches Urged To Use New 'Space Age Energy'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A prominent church leader has called for the application of space age energy to problems faced by the nation's churches.

Dr. Jon L. Regier of New York, executive secretary of the National Council of Churches' Division of Homes and Missions, spoke Tuesday night at the 45th annual Ohio Pastors Convocation.

"If we would really dream big," he said, "we could solve many of our problems by devoting to them the same type of energy that is being devoted to the moon shot."

Dr. Regier referred to the moon shot program as "a vast, legitimized WPA project to keep our economy going."

"Why can't we put that effort into some of our social problems?" he asked.

The clergymen were scheduled to hear today the first Roman Catholic speaker in the convocation's history.

The Rev. Frederick R. McManus of Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., was to speak on "The Second Vatican Council and Christian Unity."

Dr. Regier spoke Tuesday night at the 40th annual dinner of the Town and Country Department of the Ohio Council of Churches, held in connection with the convocation. Earlier, he spoke to the entire convocation. Other speakers included Maj. Gen. Robert P. Taylor, chief of Air Force chaplains.

Gen. Taylor's address, "The Fulfillment of Our Ministry," dealt with challenges facing people today.

He said people are challenged not only by those things which threaten their way of life but also by those things which enrich it.

Leaking Gas Is Fatal To Sandusky Man, 79

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A 78-year-old woman was in good Samaritan Hospital today, a victim of leaking gas that also killed her husband.

Kathryn Furey was found unconscious and her husband, Paul, 79, was found dead in their gas-filled apartment Tuesday. She is in critical condition.

Among the threatening factors, he said, are racial conflicts, poverty, communism, materialism and complacency. But he stressed the challenges to keep and improve personal freedom, religious freedom, economic and political and intellectual freedoms, the home, business, church, the law, and love and loyalty to country.

"Last of all," the chaplain said, "we are challenged by the things that sustain our way of life. Our religious heritage has been passed along to us; our spiritual resources must be developed within us."

with Taipei. The Paris-Peking agreement calls for the exchange of ambassadors within three months.

Although the Chinese Nationalist embassy in Paris has been instructed to carry on as usual, the government ordered the withdrawal of funds from French banks to prevent the money being turned over to the Communists later.

The South Viet Nam government issued a white paper rebuking France and banning the import of French goods. It also hinted South Viet Nam may break relations with France.

France is South Viet Nam's second largest supplier after the United States. French business with Saigon runs to about $35 million annually.

The Saigon military government has vigorously opposed De Gaulle's proposal to end the guerrilla war through reunification and neutralization of Viet Nam.

Rep. Wallace On Panel for Oil, Gas Study

Ed Wallace, Pickaway County Representative to the Ohio General Assembly, has been appointed to the Legislative Study Committee relating to the state's oil and gas drilling laws and regulations.

The appointment was made by Roger Cloud, speaker of the House of Representatives.

The House has already adopted a resolution requesting the Legislative Service Commission to study laws governing oil and gas production. The measure calls for special emphasis on safety and conservation practices.

Findings and recommendations of the service commission are to be reported to the next session of the General Assembly.

The resolution, HR 106, points out that the extraction of oil and natural gas is becoming an activity of increasing importance to the economy of Ohio. It also notes that extractive techniques have improved more rapidly than the state's ability to regulate the industry, with the result that some operations appear to be wasteful and potentially dangerous.

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer sentenced a Columbus man to the Mansfield Reformatory on forgery charges.

DREAMING

Q. Is it true that dreams last only a few seconds even though they seem to progress at a rate comparable to real experience?

A. Recent investigations show that dreams do not occur instantaneously. In a typical night, four or five dreams take place. The initial dream is about 10 minutes in length. After a period of about 1 1/2 hours of sleep, a second dream occurs which lasts about 20 minutes. Further sleep is followed by a dream of about 25 minutes and still more sleep by a dream of about 28 minutes. Although everyone has his own pattern, the average total dream period night after night is very consistent, making up 18 to 20% of sleep time. Dream recall seldom occurs unless the subject awakens during or shortly after the dream.

CIGARETTE SMOKING

Q. I'd like a simple, direct answer to this question: Why do people smoke cigarettes?

A. Frankly, we don't know and it seems that smokers don't know either. A surprising proportion of smokers express dissatisfaction with their smoking habits. One regular smoker in eight does not even consider smoking pleasurable. Another 58% report that although they enjoy smoking they do not consider it worth the cost. Only 14% of regular smokers report that they consider the habit pleasurable, safe and worth the cost!

Economy vs Curtailment

Congress has amply demonstrated its ability to favor a reduction in expenditures as long as it affects the other fellow's district. Executives are not immune to the same let-John-economize attitude.

Economy planned by the Johnson administration falls most heavily on the Defense Department, but each of the major departments and hundreds of lesser agencies must hold the line on new spending and reduce current expenditures slightly (because of built-in escalators voted by Congress in the past) if the government is to achieve its goal of limiting new authorizations to less than $100 billion.

Postmaster General Gronouski has announced plans of his department to reduce the $650 million annual deficit by eliminating 5,000 postal jobs. No one will be fired, but it is hoped normal attrition and turnover will produce the desired cutback in numbers.

However, Gronouski has warned that postal service may deteriorate as a result. Curtailment of postal services is an unfortunate trend which frequently characterizes postal activity. Arrival of Culture Recalled

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — As culture must to all mankind, it has come to our family.

"You never take me to a museum," remarked our 10-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, whose usual enthusiasms are ice skating and trying to unwind the teeth we pay her orthodontist to wire.

"Well, well," I said, stung to the backbone of parental pride. "What museum would you like to see? The Guggenheim?"

"Is that the one where you go up in an elevator and then unwind and unwind and unwind as you go downstairs?"

"Maybe."

"No, thanks."

"Well, how would you like to see the Metropolitan Museum of Art?"

"Is that where the mummy lives?"

"Well, yes, they do have a department of Egyptology there."

"That's the place, replied my daughter. 'That's where the mummy lives.'"

We walked up the grand staircase of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"I think the mummies are this way," said Tracy confidently. We went by an array of stone emptinesses, dilapidated cat goddesses and leering amputees of lost splendor.

Then we got lost ourselves and wandered into the armor area where knights in steel bestride horses also metal-bordered. Tracy enjoyed this form of humanitarianism.

"Did cats wear armor too then so dogs couldn't bite them?" she asked.

We went down and hit the snack place for a sandwich and a drink. Tracy insisted on waiting outside when I went through the American wing.

When I emerged, she steered me back to the Egyptian area. This time she pawed me successfully to a glass case containing the remnants of a fellow wrapped in Thebes a long time ago. To an outsider he had an air of decrepitude.

"That's a mummy in there," said my daughter learnedly. "You know how long he has been in there? He was put in there before Jesus Christ was born and" — her face wore a look of complete feminine triumph — "he never has got out."

"What do you think of that, Daddy?"

I thought it was a good time to go home. The way I figure culture, you can only take so much of it at a time — in our family.

NEW YORK (AP)—If misery loves company, the United States may take some comfort in the prospect that the high-flying European Common Market this year faces the threat of a deficit in international payments for the first time since its formation in 1958.

The U.S. annual deficit is older, and is still unsolved, if down from the peak of a few years back.

The European Common Market's basic problem also is one that the United States is accustomed to—the disturbances that growing prosperity can make in attempts to balance an economy, despite the welcomed advantages of having good times.

Rising consumer demand in Europe, fed by a striking increase in prosperity, has increased both the local prices and the volume of imports. Europe is worried about inflation and about running behind in its financial dealings with others.

The United States managed a pleasant $4.8-billion surplus of commercial exports over imports last year. The Common Market, on the other hand, had a $2.8-billion surplus of imports over exports. And about three-fifths of the U.S. $4.8-billion trade surplus can be traced to the big excess of its exports to Western Europe over imports from the Common Market and other European nations.

On the debit side, about half of the $1.2-billion rise in U.S. exports in 1963 to a total of $21.7 billion came from foreign orders financed by U.S. government aid programs, so its balance of payments deficit was not whittled much. For the year this deficit, including all dollars going abroad and returning in addition to commercial exports and imports, is estimated at $2.6 billion or more.

The European Common Market, on the other hand, was able to erase its deficit in trade by the aid of money earned in other activities and receipts, from shipping to America private investment from Europe, and to dollars spent on U.S. military establishments there.

This year, however, some of the European Economic Community — the Common Market—are predicting a total payments deficit of as much as a billion dollars. They note that imports of the six nations rose 10.5 per cent last year, and exports only 4.5 per cent. The members are France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

In most of the six, consumer demand has been growing faster than production. That is why imports have been rising, and a deficit is a threat.

Service to Barry

By John Chamberlain

Some of Barry Goldwater's most fervent supporters are worried that he may be scaring people. If he does actually scare anybody, it's because he hasn't yet tumbled to the trick — an it's only a trick — of beginning, like Mark Antony, with a word of praise for an opponent's position (on peace, prosperity, or the "honorable" intentions of Brutus when he murdered Caesar) before going on to do an effective job of demolition.

Take, for example, his remarks on breaking diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia. If Mark Antony had been at Barry's elbow to advise him, he would have counseled an entirely different approach. He would have told Goldwater to say, "I completely agree that we should have better relations with Soviet Russia. If Khrushchev would only give into his better nature as an anti-Stalinist, we might yet liquidate the Cold War. However, if the Russians really want a detente with the western world, why do they keep on training guerrillas in Cuba for export to Panama, Venezuela and Zanzibar? If they keep on doing this sort of thing, we might yet have to counter with some support of 'wars of liberation' on our own. We might, heaven forbid, be driven to the pass where we would be compelled to threaten Moscow with withdrawal of recognition."

Okay? Does this sort of approach scare you? It wouldn't scare me, and I am pretty much of a mouse when it comes to war. The odd thing about it is that Goldwater intends to say no more than just this. Where he made his tactical mistake was in putting the bit about withdrawal of recognition from Russia first.

Again, there is the brouhaha about what Goldwater did or did not say about the progressive income tax. Were Mark Antony at his elbow, he would tell Goldwater to quote liberally from the published works of John F. Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson and Walter Heller about the burden of excessive income taxation and the desirability of taking some of the steepness out of the progressive rates in exchange for closing a few rich men's loopholes. Once you have established the point that even your enemies agree with you on the principle that the progressive income tax can impoverish the nation if it is overdone, then you are in a good position to go your opponent one better when it comes to detailing your stand.

On the subject of his claims that there is a "missile dependability" gap, Barry did "catch Hell" from people who could point to the 72 per cent "rate of success" of the Titan and the 68 per cent performance of the Minuteman. But Goldwater was not really arguing that missiles, once they are in flight, won't land in the neighborhood of a target. What worries Goldwater is the possibility that the Russian 50-megaton bomb tests have shown that the electronic controls of a missile firing system can be so discommodated by monster explosions that they wouldn't function even for very dependable missiles. And, fearing this, Goldwater is very much worried about the move to "phase out" our big bombers. The virtue of a Strategic Air Command is that it can keep bombers in the air around the clock, and hence out of reach of the sort of discommodation that might wreck a missile firing system.

Stated this way, Goldwater's attack on the "missile dependability gap" makes great common sense. It is not a case against missiles, it is a case for the air force. But this is not the way his argument got through to the country. Goldwater made the tactical error of putting the negative first. So let's go back to Mark Antony. He came to bury Caesar, not to praise him. He told the Romans that Brutus was a great patriot, and that if Caesar was ambitious it was a grievous fault. Mark Antony didn't scare anybody. But before he was through, Brutus was a gone goose.

If Barry will only take an afternoon off to read old Shakespeare's model of the way to rouse the multitudes without scaring them, he could make it all the way. So go to it, Barry. This column is offered to Goldwater as a public service. We don't want to see a man of great intelligence and integrity done in just because he knows less than his opponents do about rhetorical tricks.

Economy vs Curtailment

Congress has amply demonstrated its ability to favor a reduction in expenditures as long as it affects the other fellow's district. Executives are not immune to the same let-John-economize attitude.

Economy planned by the Johnson administration falls most heavily on the Defense Department, but each of the major departments and hundreds of lesser agencies must hold the line on new spending and reduce current expenditures slightly (because of built-in escalators voted by Congress in the past) if the government is to achieve its goal of limiting new authorizations to less than $100 billion.

Postmaster General Gronouski has announced plans of his department to reduce the $650 million annual deficit by eliminating 5,000 postal jobs. No one will be fired, but it is hoped normal attrition and turnover will produce the desired cutback in numbers.

However, Gronouski has warned that postal service may deteriorate as a result. Curtailment of postal services is an unfortunate trend which frequently characterizes postal activity. It is difficult to predict how much additional deterioration in postal service would be required to make the present system of mail communication entirely obsolete, but post office officials surely are aware of the upsurge in parcel business going to private haulers with each new increase in rates.

Boiling out the fat and curtailing operations are not synonymous. Instructing his department chiefs of the distinction will be one of the President's most difficult tasks.

"You never take me to a museum," remarked our 10-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, whose usual enthusiasms are ice skating and trying to unwind the teeth we pay her orthodontist to wire.

"Well, well," I said, stung to the backbone of parental pride. "What museum would you like to see? The Guggenheim?"

"Is that the one where you go up in an elevator and then unwind and unwind and unwind as you go downstairs?"

We walked up the grand staircase of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"I think the mummies are this way," said Tracy confidently. We went by an array of stone emplacements, dilapidated cat goddesses and leering amputees of lost splendor.

Then we got lost ourselves and wandered into the armor area where knights in steel bestride horses also metal-bordered. Tracy enjoyed this form of humanitarianism.

"Did cats wear armor too then so dogs couldn't bite them?" she joked.

We went down and hit the snack place for a sandwich and a drink. Tracy insisted on wait-

Hunt Called Off For Man on Raft

HONOLULU (AP) — The search has been called off for a man reported sighted last Wednesday floating in a raft about 1,100 miles west of Honolulu.

A hunt over 100,000 miles of ocean didn't turn up a trace of the raft or its occupant, who was said by the five-man crew of an Air Force cargo plane to have waved at them as they flew over the area last week.

Searchers had assumed that if there was a man out there, he was a survivor from a C124 Air Force Globemaster that crashed Jan. 2 with nine men aboard. All have been officially declared dead.

Balboa Is Hub Of Canal Crisis

PANAMA (AP)—To a school child in the United States, Balboa is the man who discovered the Pacific Ocean. In Panama, Balboa means a U.S. naval station and town, the hub of the present crisis between the United States and Panama.

In the wake of bloody rioting, Panama President Roberto Chirri's official stance is that the United States must agree to negotiate a new Canal Zone treaty before Panama will restore diplomatic relations with Washington. Panama wants the new treaty to provide for an eventual takeover by Panama of the 50-mile-long, 10-mile-wide zone and its canal.

No matter how unpopular they are with Panamanians, Balboa and the Canal Zone and the U.S. role there are vitally important to the immediate existence of Panama itself.

Every year $85 million flows into the Panamanian economy from the zone and its residents. There are many smaller — but real — benefits to the Panamanian.

What would happen if the present concept of the Canal Zone disappeared?

Banker Ruben D. Carles says: "There are great opportunities — and graver problems — in returning the canal to us. One would be finding the sources to replace the $70 million to $180 million income from the zone and their accompanying effect on employment, commerce, industry and balance of payments."

He advocates a wide range of U.S. compensations for rights over the canal, and he wants Panama to have use of Canal Zone port facilities. Panama City, the capital, has none.

He says the $1.9 million annuity the United States now pays Panama for the canal is a paltry sum.

Some Panamanians fear the United States will only pull out of Panama after it has developed a new canal elsewhere across the Central American isthmus, leaving Panama in effect with a big, empty ditch.

But many, including Panamanian nationalists, believe the day is over when the United States could go into just any country and build canals.

Mary Costa in Training 8 Years for Met Debut

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mary Costa made it to the Met this month, and the critics hailed her as an overnight success.

That brought a wry smile to the beautiful soprano, who started training eight years ago for her debut in America's most prestigious opera house.

You may remember Mary. She was the girl with Bill Lundigan who sold cars on the "Climax" television show for three years. She started studying serious singing during those times, and her friends thought it was nice that Mary had a hobby. Only she and a few others realized it was more than that.

"I knew I had a natural voice," she said, "but I also knew it would take a great deal of training."

Train she did, to the loss of her career as a pitchgirl and actress. Five years ago, folks were surprised to learn that Mary's hobby had led to roles with the San Francisco Opera. Later the Metropolitan put in a bid.

She held off making the big plunge until she felt she and the time were ready.

Finally, impresario Rudolph Bing offered her the starring role in "La Traviata" and told her: "You would be very capricious to turn me down this time, since it is a role with which you are completely familiar."

So Mary took the assignment — and found that time did not allow a rehearsal onstage.

"That's where I think my television training came in handy. I wasn't at all nervous about hitting the right marks on the stage. And the people in the chorus were darling about helping me. When there was a pause in the music, they'd whisper, 'Now move to your right about 10 feet,' and so forth."

Despite such matters, Mary won enormous acclaim. She'll return to the Met in "La Traviata" again this season, and her operatic future looks golden.

This week she was back at her home base to appear on ABC's "Hollywood Palace" show which will appear Saturday night.

One thing marred Mary's triumph. Shortly after she returned from the Met, she announced the parting from her husband, film director Frank Tashlin, who helped and encouraged her in the years of training. Her frequent absences and the divergence of their careers was given as the reason. No divorce plans have been made, and there is hope that their problems may work out.

Second Home Is Becoming More Popular

By ELEANOR ROSS

One of the major signs of the affluence of the Sixties is the investment in a second home. Millions of American families — including those in moderate as well as upper bracket incomes — are turning to weekend vacation houses or hideaway retreats as one answer to getting away from the stress of city living.

Recognizing the importance of this new trend, the 1964 Decoration and Design Show held last fall in New York featured a series of intriguing settings, showing how to combine charm, convenience and comfort in a house well removed from the mainstream of activity.

The theme of the decor varied widely among the various settings. But the designers had one thought in common—practicality of maintenance and upkeep.

Foam rubber furniture was used extensively because of its long wear and comfort qualities. One designer upholstered the furniture, walls — and even the ceiling — with easy-care vinyl which can be wiped off with a damp sponge. Curtains and draperies also came in for this treatment.

Then another designer, in a beach house designed for a young couple, simply installed aqua Venetian blinds on the three living room windows and ran a strip of multi-colored fabric down the tapes—eliminating curtains and drapes entirely. Decorative, yet so simple and quite effective!

The same multi-colored fabric was used as upholstery on a lounge chair and foam-rubber-cushioned seating stools. Vinyl flooring was put in to cut down on household chores. Attractive area rugs, not too large to be thrown in a washer, were ready to be added in cold weather.

Heavy-duty denim or sailcloth, simple to care for and able to take sturdy use, covered chairs, sofas, or window seats.

One of the most talked-about exhibits was a mobile home featuring a handsome sofa covered in heavy blue sailcloth with white welting as contrast. Draperies were of the same fabric accented with stripes. This second home is meant to be mobile so far as being transported to its destination. Then it is expected to settle down for a good, long stay.

The 48-ft. by 16-ft. unit is delivered to its owners by commercial truckers. Then it is set down from its wheel base on a foundation and two sections telescope out to provide 40 per cent more living space.

Last but not least, this mobile home was shown with a mobile garden designed for "instant" landscaping. It featured pretty green plants in red clay pots, a seashell fountain and rocks—all easily transported from one site to another.

Couples choosing this handsome second home might have a difficult time forcing themselves to go back to their first one!

How To Help Your Husband Stop Smoking

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you make a deal with your husband to go through the agonies of cigarette withdrawal together, both of you will have a better chance of shaking the dangerous habit.

The Buddy system has been found to be most effective among the thousands who jammed the auditoriums at Hunter College campus recently for the National Health Foundation's five-day How To Stop Smoking course.

As with alcoholics, fellow cigarette smokers understand each other's tensions and are sympathetic. They can fight their problem together, and they can check up on each other.

But even though you are a non-smoker, you as a wife can still play an important role in winning your husband away from the weed. Dr. Catherine Hess and Dr. Elman Fokenberg agree.

Dr. Hess is assistant health commissioner for New York City and is in charge of the free citywide cigarette withdrawal clinics which are to open in April.

Elman Fokenberg, of South Lancaster, Mass. devised the program with Dr. J. Wayne McFarland and directs it. The 42-year-old psychologist is minister of a Seventh Day Adventist Church.

They suggest: Your attitude is important. Above all, don't be holier than he. Don't nag him. Let the decision to quit be his alone and his to maintain. Don't hide the cigarettes. That is his prerogative. Some men like to put them on the mantel where they can thumb their noses at them, or carry them in their pockets as reassurance of their willpower. But you might put away the ashtrays. Protect him from as many problems as possible for the first five days. He is jumpy than usual. Run interference with the kids, the bill collectors, and the in-laws.

Serve lighter foods, a liquid diet of fruit juices the first day, and plenty of fruit juices thereafter.

The glucose intake in the juices reduce the craving for fattening sweets. Avoid highly spiced foods. These are too stimulating to the nervous system. Cut out the coffee. Although coffee itself is not necessarily harmful, the coffee-and-a-cigarette habit is. Help him to break the long established pattern by removing the other half of the team.

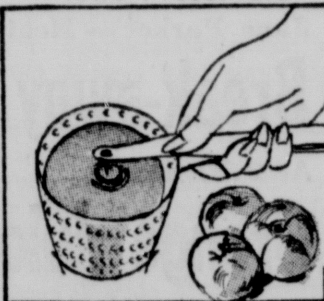

"Give him a lot of water to drink," says Dr. Hess. "Did you ever see a man reach for a cigarette to drink with his water?"

Put on your walking shoes and take some of those brisk walks which he needs to work off his tension. You'll lose some tension, too.

Turn the television on, or provide some other entertainment after dinner to keep his mind off his big problem.

Appreciate that it is a big problem which he is trying to lick. "And," says psychologist Fokenberg, "encourage, encourage, encourage him every step of the way!"

ECONOMIC HEALTH: Experts of the Federal Reserve Board have taken the pulse of the three-year-old business expansion and found it stronger and steadier than that of earlier, more spectacular postwar recoveries.

The monthly reserve bulletin said Tuesday that the four key components which can cause flutters in the economy have remained on a generally rising plane during this recovery, compared to rather wide fluctuations in the 1953-57 and 1958-60 expansion periods.

These key components are consumer durable goods — such as automobiles and appliances — residential construction, business investment and federal government purchases.

FEDERAL WORKERS: The number of federal civilian employees declined by 5,526 in December, a congressional committee reported today.

December's total was 2,487,853, compared with 2,493,379 in November, said the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures.

TRACKING STATION: Spain and the United States announced plans today for the construction and operation of a space tracking and data acquisition station about 30 miles west of Madrid.

The station will be used primarily to support U.S. sonar and planetary projects. It will become part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's deep space network which includes stations in California, Australia and the Republic of South Africa.

Spanish technical personnel will participate in operating the $1.5 million station.

Flattering Hairdos for Little Girls

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

There was a little girl who had no little curl, not in the middle of her forehead or a nany place else.

But it didn't bother her mother one small bit. She knew that when the little girl got big enough she could have a home permanent, which is just what happened. Nowadays, that little girl is a regular Curlylocks.

Ever three to four months, she sits still for a permanent-waving session and is pleased as a peacock with the results.

She even learned how to set her own hair — with an assist or two from her mother.

The whole bit makes the little girl feel very grownup indeed. She feels pretty and looks pretty, too. Everyone's happy, especially her mother.

Second Home Is Becoming More Popular

By ELEANOR ROSS

One of the major signs of the affluence of the Sixties is the investment in a second home. Millions of American families — including those in moderate as well as upper bracket incomes — are turning to weekend vacation houses or hideaway retreats as one answer to getting away from the stress of city living.

Recognizing the importance of this new trend, the 1964 Decoration and Design Show held last fall in New York featured a series of intriguing settings, showing how to combine charm, convenience and comfort in a house well removed from the mainstream of activity.

The theme of the decor varied widely among the various settings. But the designers had one thought in common—practicality of maintenance and upkeep.

Foam rubber furniture was used extensively because of its long wear and comfort qualities. One designer upholstered the furniture, walls — and even the ceiling — with easy-care vinyl which can be wiped off with a damp sponge. Curtains and draperies also came in for this treatment.

Then another designer, in a beach house designed for a young couple, simply installed aqua Venetian blinds on the three living room windows and ran a strip of multi-colored fabric down the tapes—eliminating curtains and drapes entirely. Decorative, yet so simple and quite effective!

The same multi-colored fabric was used as upholstery on a lounge chair and foam-rubber-cushioned seating stools. Vinyl flooring was put in to cut down on household chores. Attractive area rugs, not too large to be thrown in a washer, were ready to be added in cold weather.

Heavy-duty denim or sailcloth, simple to care for and able to take sturdy use, covered chairs, sofas, or window seats.

One of the most talked-about exhibits was a mobile home featuring a handsome sofa covered in heavy blue sailcloth with white welting as contrast. Draperies were of the same fabric accented with stripes. This second home is meant to be mobile so far as being transported to its destination. Then it is expected to settle down for a good, long stay.

The 48-ft. by 16-ft. unit is delivered to its owners by commercial truckers. Then it is set down from its wheel base on a foundation and two sections telescope out to provide 40 per cent more living space.

Last but not least, this mobile home was shown with a mobile garden designed for "instant" landscaping. It featured pretty green plants in red clay pots, a seashell fountain and rocks—all easily transported from one site to another.

Couples choosing this handsome second home might have a difficult time forcing themselves to go back to their first one!

How To Help Your Husband Stop Smoking

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you make a deal with your husband to go through the agonies of cigarette withdrawal together, both of you will have a better chance of shaking the dangerous habit.

The Buddy system has been found to be most effective among the thousands who jammed the auditoriums at Hunter College campus recently for the National Health Foundation's five-day How To Stop Smoking course.

As with alcoholics, fellow cigarette smokers understand each other's tensions and are sympathetic. They can fight their problem together, and they can check up on each other.

But even though you are a non-smoker, you as a wife can still play an important role in winning your husband away from the weed. Dr. Catherine Hess and Dr. Elman Fokenberg agree.

Dr. Hess is assistant health commissioner for New York City and is in charge of the free citywide cigarette withdrawal clinics which are to open in April.

Elman Fokenberg, of South Lancaster, Mass. devised the program with Dr. J. Wayne McFarland and directs it. The 42-year-old psychologist is minister of a Seventh Day Adventist Church.

They suggest: Your attitude is important. Above all, don't be holier than thou. Don't nag him. Let the decision to quit be his alone and let him maintain. Don't hide the cigarettes. That is his prerogative. Some men like to put them on the mantel where they can thumb their noses at them, or carry them in their pockets as reassurance of their willpower. But you might put away the ashtrays. Protect him from as many problems as possible for the first five days. He is jumpy than usual. Run interference with the kids, the bill collectors, and the in-laws.

Serve lighter foods, a liquid diet of fruit juices the first day, and plenty of fruit juices thereafter.

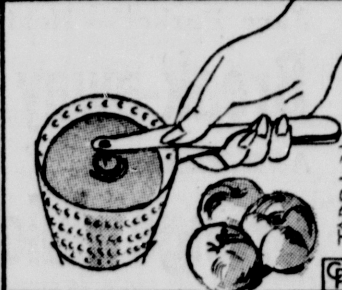

The glucose intake in the juices reduce the craving for fattening sweets. Avoid highly spiced foods. These are too stimulating to the nervous system. Cut out the coffee. Although coffee itself is not necessarily harmful, the coffee-and-a-cigarette habit is. Help him to break the long established pattern by removing the other half of the team.

"Give him a lot of water to drink," says Dr. Hess. "Did you ever see a man reach for a cigarette to drink with his water?"

Put on your walking shoes and take some of those brisk walks which he needs to work off his tension. You'll lose some tension, too.

Turn the television on, or provide some other entertainment after dinner to keep his mind off his big problem. Appreciate that it is a big problem which he is trying to lick. "And," says psychologist Fokenberg, "encourage, encourage, encourage him every step of the way!"

Dear Abby: 'Adopting' an Attitude?

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I wish they had a law against people adopting a child when they already have one of their own. I am a 13-year-old adopted boy. My parents got me when I was first born. They already had one boy of their own. He was four, and they wanted a companion for him. Well, I was supposed to be it, but I never was. My brother and I never got along. He's a good student and a good athlete and I am neither. I am a big disappointment to my parents and I wish I was dead. It wouldn't be so bad if my brother was adopted, too, but he is their real son and I am not. I don't think adopted kids and flesh and blood kids belong in the same family, do you?

ADOPTED: Adopted kids belong in any family that wants them. If you are different from your "brother," don't blame it on the fact that you are adopted. You are probably the only one who ever gives it a second thought.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I got a telephone call at eleven o'clock at night from his kid sister, who lives 200 miles from here. She said, "Dick and I are getting married tomorrow. I don't suppose you and Pat (that's me) can drive down for the wedding, huh?" Neither of us had made any arrangements at work so we told her we couldn't make it. I wished her good luck on the phone and said goodbye. Our first free weekend we drove down to his home town and his mother was mad at me. She had the idea it was my fault we missed the wedding. When I went into her house she had cut our wedding picture in half and my husband was in a frame all by himself! What would you do?

PAT: DEAR PAT: I'd say YOU were the one who was framed. Skip it.

DEAR ABBY: Our four-year-old son is not left-handed except when it comes to eating. My husband says for me to leave him alone, but I am trying to encourage him to eat with his right hand because I think it looks so clumsy for a person to eat with his left hand. What do you think?

A MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: Leave him alone. What's the difference? His MOUTH is in the middle.

ERASING THE PAST—George G. Hutchinson paints out the assumed name he used for 27 years, in front of his home near St. Louis, Mo. One of his seven children, Rebecca, 10, is watching. Hutchinson escaped from an Illinois prison farm in 1937 and changed his name to Clyde Swanson. After living an exemplary life for 27 years, he surrendered and was pardoned 10 days later by Gov. Otto Kerner.

Author Hails Abundance of 'Good Novels'

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Walter Van Tilburg Clark's eyes probed the barren, brown January hills east of modern Reno's emerging skyline and reflected:

On modern writing—"I think there are more good novels and stories published today than there ever have been in this country. But it's harder for a new writer to get an important start."

On teaching—"I find that teaching to all intents stopped my imaginative writing. I was too constantly in a critical frame of mind teaching fiction and poetry. But I love teaching."

Clark was born in East Portland, Maine, most of his 54 years have been spent in the west that was the setting for his novels "The Ox-Bow Incident" and "Track of the Cat," both later made into motion pictures.

"Track of the Cat" published in 1949, was Clark's last major work on fiction. Most of the time since has been spent teaching a new generation of writers.

Eighteen months ago, he left the classroom and writing workshops to compile a chronicle of frontier life, based on the 79 leatherbound journals written over nearly 55 years by Alfred Doten, an obscure miner and journalist. Clark still is busy on the project.

Clark and his wife and their two dogs live in a hilltop house on four acres west of Reno. Clark gazes through a picture window to the Nevada hills and talks about the young writers.

Their studies under experienced authors in graduate schools and workshops has improved technique. "The quality and knowledgment of writing now is superior to any other period."

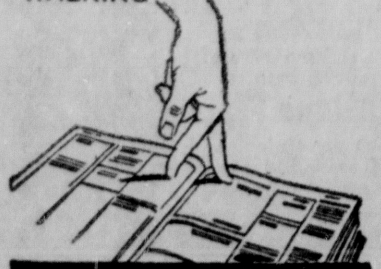

But, Clark notes, the modern writer seems less able to develop unique subject material. "I find more nearly uniform attitudes than I like. But there really is less differentiation of experience in these days. The subject that really interests and takes hold is rarer."

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has honored the FBI with a certificate citing it for "immense contributions to our American heritage, equal protection of minorities and their rights under law."

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The most unpredictable event in Washington is a President Johnson news conference. He seems to call conferences on impulse, with scant advance notice.

The word "impulse" seems justified here, just as it does with some of Johnson's other dealings with newspaper people—like taking them on a tour of the White House or his ranch.

Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy rambled a bit, with halts, starts, and some broken sentences. So does Johnson, with some additional rambling of a different kind which he must feel serves a purpose of its own.

Where the other two men pretty much limited their answers to a specific question asked, Johnson has a tendency to spread out, hopping from one subject to another while replying to a single question.

This can't necessarily be called good, bad, helpful, or unhelpful, at least not yet. The multiple answer technique enables Johnson to get across a lot of things he wants to say.

In effect, it turns a news conference into a platform for his ideas.

But, while the long statements permit him to give out more information, or opinions, on more subjects than reporters might have thought to ask him about, it also reduces the time they have for asking questions they might want answers to.

Eisenhower and Kennedy usually handled an average of 5 to 30 questions. The most questions Johnson has answered were 18 at one conference; 9 at another; 17 at another; 14 at another. Then there was a memorable meeting with the press when, after making a statement, he answered only one question.

The accuracy of calling that particular meeting with the press a news conference is questionable. Johnson called the reporters together suddenly last Thursday for one reason—or so it seemed—and that was to give information on Panama.

When he finished one newsman asked: "How do you think things are going on the Hill (meaning with Congress)?" That gave Johnson two opportunities: to talk about what Congress was doing with his programs, and to talk about his relations with his former Senate aide, Robert G. (Bobby) Baker.

When he got through with his double-long answer to that single question Johnson walked out. But he used the question to give his view on how he came to receive a $585 hi-fi set.

An insurance agent who had written a large policy on Johnson's life had testified that he paid for the set.

The President said the set had been given him by Baker. The President said Baker did not expect anything in return and that the Johnson and Baker families had exchanged gifts before.

The Senate Rules Committee is investigating Baker, whose financial activities are beginning to sound fabulous. Baker, a one-time Johnson protegee, began his Capitol Hill career as a page boy and advanced to the post of secretary of the Democratic majority.

Johnson was the Democratic leader in the Senate when Baker was there. Baker quit last October under fire and so far has refused to talk.

The insurance man, Don B. Reynolds, said he bought the music set and had it shipped to Johnson at Baker's request shortly after $100,000 in insurance on Johnson's life was purchased through Reynolds' agency.

This was Johnson's first public comment on the Baker case. He has declined to say anything further. It is debatable whether he was wise to comment at all. He has opened the door to be quizzed further as the committee investigation goes on.

Johnson might have saved himself such questions by issuing a single statement when the Baker case is finished, if he felt it necessary to say anything.

2nd White House Aide Quits Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Schlesinger Jr. today became the second key White House adviser to the late President Kennedy to submit his resignation to President Johnson.

Schlesinger will leave the White House staff March 1.

Asst. press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said Schlesinger plans to write a book about the "Kennedy years." A noted historian, he was on the Harvard faculty before joining Kennedy's staff as special assistant.

Theodore C. Sorenson, Kennedy's special White House counsel, submitted his resignation earlier to take effect at the end of February.

Crippled Children Unit Slated in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati unit of the Burns Institute of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children will open Feb. 1 at General Hospital.

The unit will be a seven-bed interim one until a permanent institute, costing $2.5 million, is built adjacent to General Hospital.

The interim unit will provide treatment for severely burned children and conduct research into improved burns therapy, officials said Tuesday.

ERASING THE PAST—George G. Hutchinson paints out the assumed name he used for 27 years, in front of his home near St. Louis, Mo. One of his seven children, Rebecca, 10, is watching. Hutchinson escaped from an Illinois prison farm in 1937 and changed his name to Clyde Swanson. After living an exemplary life for 27 years, he surrendered and was pardoned 10 days later by Gov. Otto Kerner.

Author Hails Abundance of 'Good Novels'

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Walter Van Tilburg Clark's eyes probed the barren, brown January hills east of modern Reno's emerging skyline and reflected: On modern writing—"I think there are more good novels and stories published today than there ever have been in this country. But it's harder for a new writer to get an important start."

On teaching—"I find that teaching to all intents stopped my imaginative writing. I was too constantly in a critical frame of mind teaching fiction and poetry. But I love teaching."

Clark was born in East Oregon, Maine, most of his 54 years have been spent in the west that was the setting for his novels "The Ox-Bow Incident" and "Track of the Cat," both later made into motion pictures.

"Track of the Cat" published in 1949, was Clark's last major work on fiction. Most of the time since has been spent teaching a new generation of writers.

Eighteen months ago, he left the classroom and writing workshops to compile a chronicle of frontier life, based on the 79 leatherbound journals written over nearly 55 years by Alfred Doten, an obscure miner and journalist. Clark still is busy on the project.

Clark and his wife and their two dogs live in a hilltop house on four acres west of Reno. Clark gazes through a picture window to the Nevada hills and talks about the young writers.

Their studies under experienced authors in graduate schools and workshops has improved technique. "The quality and knowledge of writing now is superior to any other period."

But, Clark notes, the modern writer seems less able to develop unique subject material. "I find more nearly uniform attitudes than I like. But there really is less differentiation of experience in these days. The subject that really interests and takes hold is rarer."

Cleveland Schools Face More Racial Picketing

CLEVELAND (AP) — More picketing was on tap today in Cleveland's school integration fust, which has both Negro and white parents up in arms in some East Side areas.

Pickets representing the United Freedom Movement, a civil rights group, and the Hazeldell Parents Association were to picket today at two schools — William E. Brett Elementary School on Royal Road and Memorial School on East 152nd Street.

Brett was the scene Tuesday of a sit-in by white parents which at times threatened to become unruly.

Object of the protests of both racial groups is the Cleveland School Board's plan for mixing classes from overcrowded Hazeldell School, which is in a predominantly Negro area, with classes in predominantly white schools. The board has been transporting Negro pupils to three predominantly white schools by bus but has kept the Hazeldell pupils segregated.

In response to the UFM demands, a "diffusion" plan was put in effect this week at the start of the new semester. School officials said about 46 per cent of the bused classes were being mixed or diffused in the receiving schools.

UFM leaders say the plan amounts to mixing the children only 4 per cent of the time. The UFM demands full integration in the receiving schools. Some of the white parents believe the mixing will mean lower teaching levels.

About 60 white women and 10 men descended on Brett Tuesday. The parents spent the school day in the school auditorium and corridors. It took appeals from a minister, a School Board member and Albert Baller, president of the Colliwood Improvement Council, to calm them.

The mothers said they came to school because they feared for their children's safety in view of plans of Hazeldell parents to picket.

Some 25 mothers gathered in the north wing of the school, where most of the primary grades are located, and refused to leave until Dr. George E. Theobald, assistant superintendent of elementary schools, threatened to summon police aid. The women then went to the auditorium.

Later they were joined by three Negro mothers of Hazeldell pupils, and it was decided to set up a mother-to-mother committee to discuss school problems.

At Memorial School, about six mothers escorted their children to class, but there were no incidents.

Some 100 UFM representatives picketed the school board headquarters downtown Tuesday, but the UFM scheduled its picketing today for the schools involved. Some 800 pupils are transferred daily from Hazeldell to Brett, Memorial and Murray Hill schools.

Ag Inspectors Test 'Horsemeat'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A staff of 35 Ohio Department of Agriculture inspectors continued laboratory tests today on 350,000 pounds of meat, embargoed on the grounds that several lots contain horsemeat.

The meat, being held in Canton and Cincinnati, is labeled "boneless beef" and stamped "U. S. inspected." Agriculture Director John M. Stackhouse said the meat that has proved to be horsemeat was supposedly from Mexico.

The state has asked for federal assistance in the investigation, and Stackhouse has asserted that persons responsible for violation of the state horsemeat law will be prosecuted.

Sen. Young Holds Mum On His Planned Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D - Ohio, plans to appear in person at 9:30 a.m. Monday in Columbus to file his petitions for re-election with the Ohio secretary of state.

In answer to a reporter's question, he said he had "not given a thought" to what type of a campaign he expects to conduct against Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the Ohio astronaut who is making a run for Young's seat.

It is his plan, Young said today, to go to Ohio on weekends in March and April to campaign prior to the May 5 primary election. He said he does not expect to miss Senate sessions in his try for another six-year term.

Discussing his working relationships with the late President John F. Kennedy and President Johnson, Young said: "I walked with John F. Kennedy at the Los Angeles convention in 1960 (when Kennedy won the Democratic presidential nomination) to Arlington Cemetery in 1963.

"I am a supporter and friend of President Johnson and I am certain he would like to have me re-elected."

Young had no comment when asked if he had discussed the Ohio political situation with Johnson.

Young's bid for renomination was taken for granted until Glenn, 42, announced he would seek the Democratic senatorial nomination.

But Young, 74, says simply, "I expect to be nominated."

And he said he already is making plans "for an extensive campaign in the fall after the adjournment of Congress."

He said the fall campaign would be "very difficult." Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio is contesting with Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for the GOP senatorial nomination.

Young said he has always had the support of the "rank and file Democrats in Ohio and of the independent voters and I feel I have their support now."

He also expressed belief that Johnson will carry Ohio by a substantial majority in the presidential election. Kennedy lost the state in 1960.

Conscience Salved By Installments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An unidentified person is apparently paying a debt to Ohio and easing his conscience — by installments.

State Treasurer John D. Herbert received a money order today for $15. An attached note said, "Owed to the treasurer, Department of Ohio." It was unsigned.

But Herbert said the handwriting was the same as that on a similar note and money order for $10.50 received last week.

Herbert said the money order received today was postmarked in Columbus but was from a New Jersey bank.

Ohio License Tag Total near Record

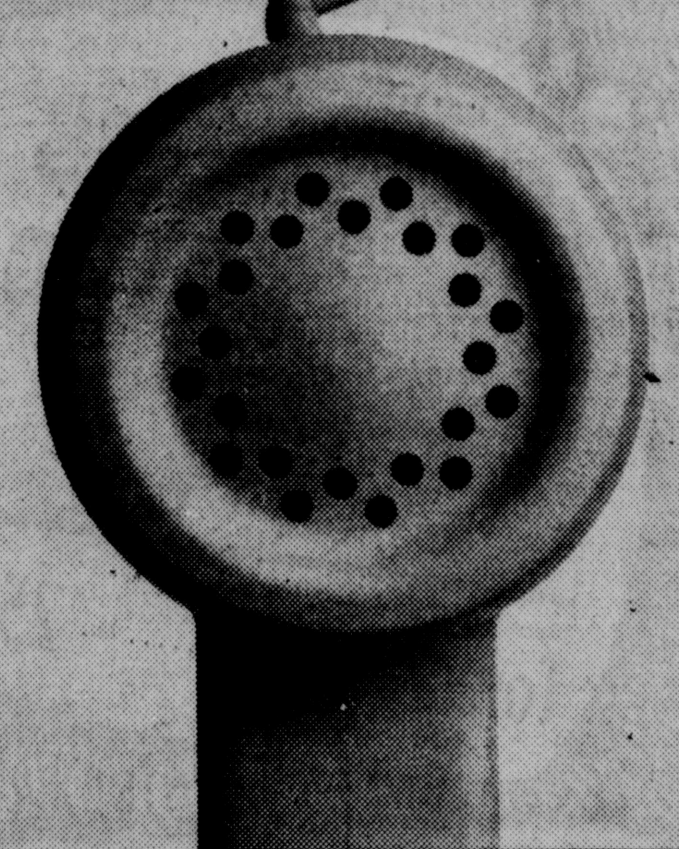

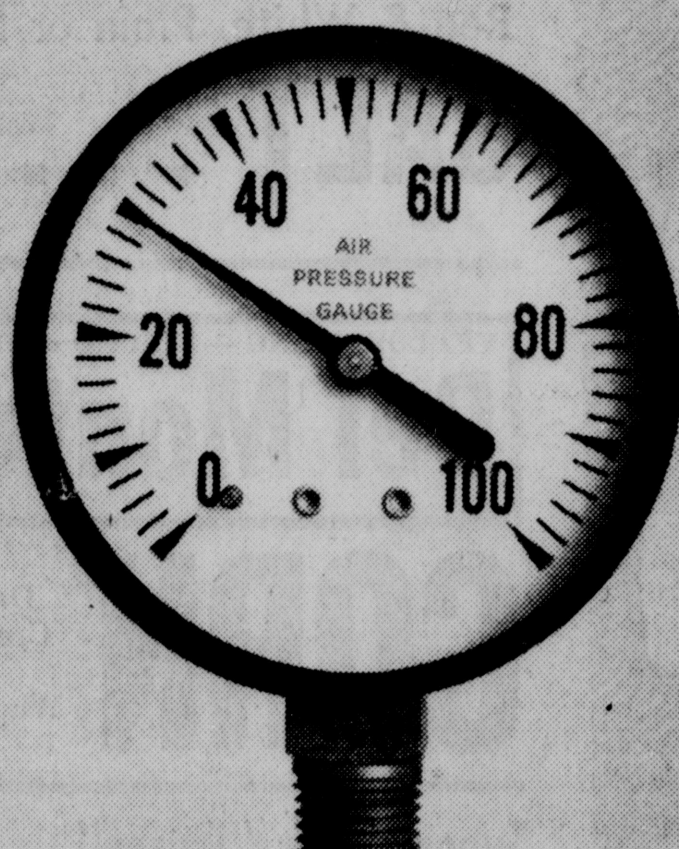

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Inmates of Lebanon Correctional Institution and Ohio Penitentiary will have made a record 10 million-plus 1964 motor vehicle license plates by the time they finish the job. Correction Commissioner Maury C. Koblenz says.

The plates go on sale March 1. Automobile tags this year are green with white numerals.

Koblenz said 8,979,000 automobile plates will have been turned out at Lebanon by the end of this week, while Ohio Penitentiary inmates have produced 1,201,450 so far for motorcycles, trailers, state vehicles and other special uses.

Air pressure also helps to keep your telephone working

Strange as it may seem, we put dehumidified air in our telephone cables and keep the pressure constant with a pump. If a cable sheathing is pierced or fractured, air seeps out, the pressure drops, and we know about it in time to make repairs before damaging moisture can creep in and possibly put your phone out of commission. This may sound like going to extremes. Actually, it's another example of how Gen Tel people and equipment work continuously to keep your phone in perfect working order.

Cleveland Schools Face More Racial Picketing

CLEVELAND (AP) — More picketing was on tap today in Cleveland's school integration fass, which has both Negro and white parents up in arms in some East Side areas.

Pickets representing the United Freedom Movement, a civil rights group, and the Hazeldell Parents Association were to picket today at two schools — William E. Brett Elementary School on Royal Road and Memorial School on East 152nd Street.

Brett was the scene Tuesday of a sit-in by white parents which at times threatened to become unruly.

Object of the protests of both racial groups is the Cleveland School Board's plan for mixing classes from overcrowded Hazeldell School, which is in a predominantly Negro area, with classes in predominantly white schools. The board has been transporting Negro pupils to three predominantly white schools by bus but has kept the Hazeldell pupils segregated.

In response to the UFM demands, a "diffusion" plan was put in effect this week at the start of the new semester. School officials said about 46 per cent of the bused classes were being mixed or diffused in the receiving schools.

UFM leaders say the plan amounts to mixing the children only 4 per cent of the time. The UFM demands full integration in the receiving schools. Some of the white parents believe the mixing will mean lower teaching levels.

About 60 white women and 10 men descended on Brett Tuesday. The parents spent the school day in the school auditorium and corridors. It took appeals from a minister, a School Board member and Abert Ballew, president of the Colindwood Improvement Council, to calm them.

The mothers said they came to school because they feared for their children's safety in view of plans of Hazeldell parents to picket.

Some 25 mothers gathered in the north wing of the school, where most of the primary grades are located, and refused to leave until Dr. George E. Theobald, assistant superintendent of elementary schools, threatened to summon police aid. The women then went to the auditorium.

Later they were joined by three Negro mothers of Hazeldell pupils, and it was decided to set up a mother - to - mother committee to discuss school problems.

At Memorial School, about six mothers escorted their children to class, but there were no incidents.

Some 100 UFM representatives picketed the school board headquarters downtown Tuesday, but the UFM scheduled its picketing today for the schools involved. Some 800 pupils are transferred daily from Hazeldell to Brett, Memorial and Murray Hill schools.

Ag Inspectors Test 'Horsemeat'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A staff of 35 Ohio Department of Agriculture inspectors continued laboratory tests today on 350,000 pounds of meat, embargoed on the grounds that several lots contain horsemeat.

The meat, being held in Canton and Cincinnati, is labeled "boneless beef" and stamped "U. S. inspected." Agriculture Director John M. Stackhouse said the meat that has proved to be horsemeat was supposedly from Mexico.

The state has asked for federal assistance in the investigation, and Stackhouse has asserted that persons responsible for violation of the state horsemeat law will be prosecuted.

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Charles Robert Justice, 38, whose Berwick home was insured for $28,000 on two policies purchased within the past month, pleaded innocent Tuesday to arson charges in connection with the burning of his home early Sunday.

Justice was bound over to the Seneca County grand jury at his arraignment in Municipal Court.

Young said he has always had the support of the "rank and file Democrats in Ohio and of the independent voters and I feel I have their support now."

Sen. Young Holds Mum On His Planned Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D - Ohio, plans to appear in person at 9:30 a.m. Monday in Columbus to file his petitions for re-election with the Ohio secretary of state.

In answer to a reporter's question, he said he had "not given a thought" to what type of a campaign he expects to conduct against Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the Ohio astronaut who is making a run for Young's seat.

It is his plan, Young said today, to go to Ohio on weekends in March and April to campaign prior to the May 5 primary election. He said he does not expect to miss Senate sessions in his try for another six-year term.

Discussing his working relationships with the late President John F. Kennedy and President Johnson, Young said:

"I walked with John F. Kennedy at the Los Angeles convention in 1960 (when Kennedy won the Democratic presidential nomination) to Arlington Cemetery in 1963.

"I am a supporter and friend of President Johnson and I am certain he would like to have me re-elected."

Young had no comment when asked if he had discussed the Ohio political situation with Johnson.

Young's bid for renomination was taken for granted until Glenn, 42, announced he would seek the Democratic senatorial nomination.

But Young, 74, says simply, "I expect to be nominated." And he said he already is making plans "for an extensive campaign in the fall after the adjournment of Congress."

He said the fall campaign would be "very difficult." Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio is contesting with Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for the GOP senatorial nomination.

Young said he has always had the support of the "rank and file Democrats in Ohio and of the independent voters and I feel I have their support now."

He also expressed belief that Johnson will carry Ohio by a substantial majority in the presidential election. Kennedy lost the state in 1960.

Conscience Salved By Installments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An unidentified person is apparently paying a debt to Ohio and easing his conscience — by installments.

State Treasurer John D. Herbert received a money order today for $15. An attached note said, "Owed to the treasurer, Department of Ohio." It was unsigned.

But Herbert said the handwriting was the same as that on a similar note and money order for $10.50 received last week. Herbert said the money order received today was postmarked in Columbus but was from a New Jersey bank.

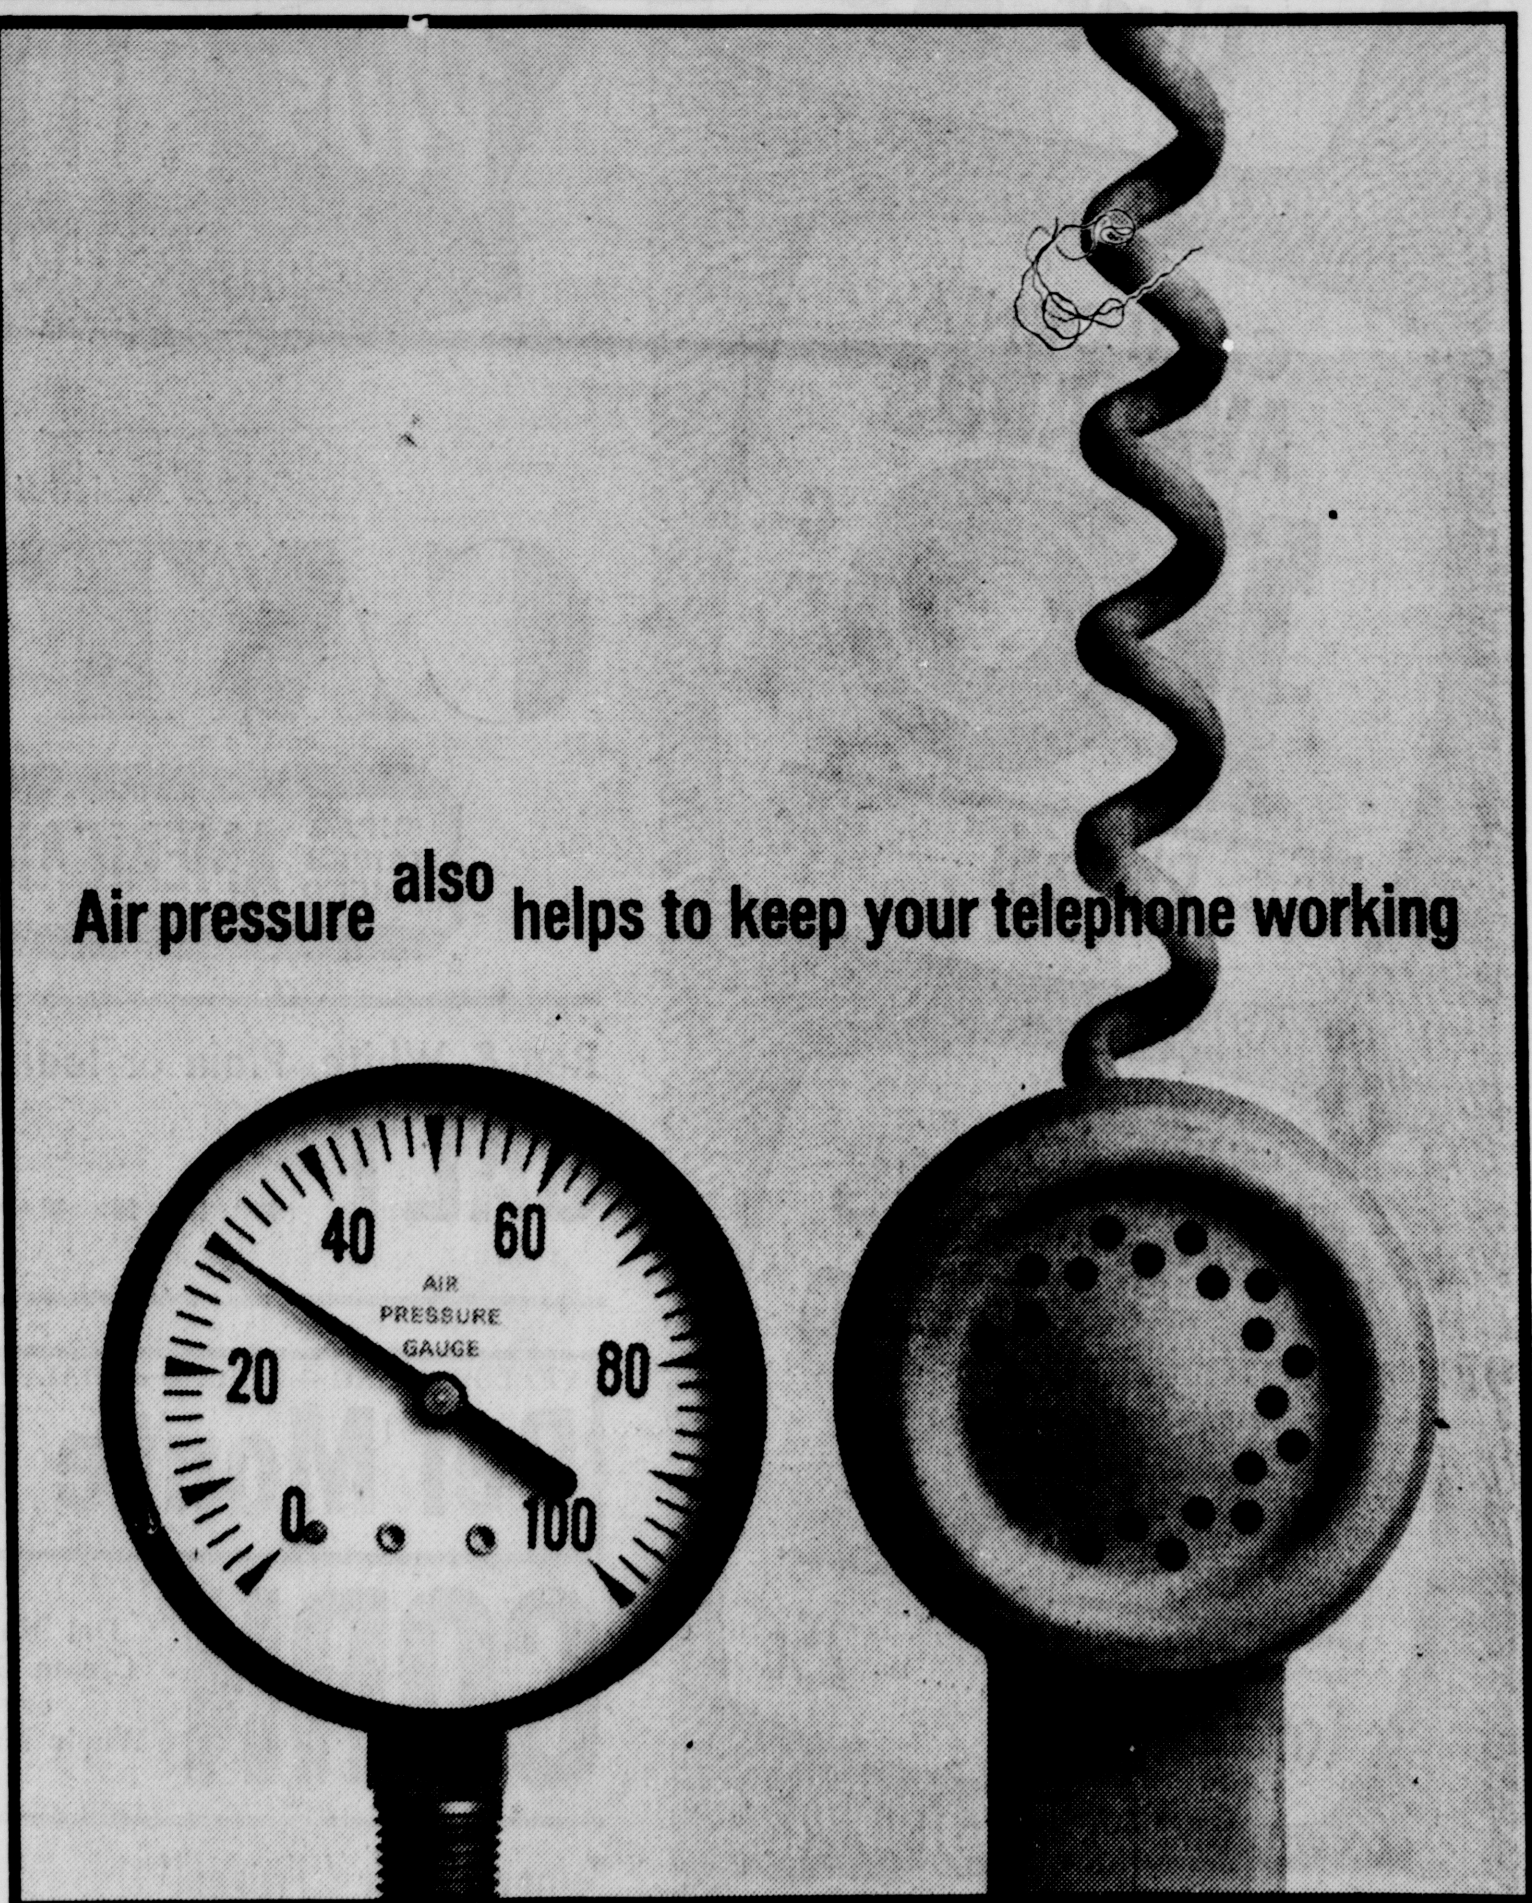

Ohio License Tag Total near Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Inmates of Lebanon Correctional Institution and Ohio Penitentiary will have made a record 10 million-plus 1964 motor vehicle license plates by the time they finish the job. Correction Commissioner Maury C. Koblenz says.

The plates go on sale March 1. Automobile tags this year are green with white numerals.

Koblenz said 8,979,000 automobile plates will have been turned out at Lebanon by the end of this week, while Ohio Penitentiary inmates have produced 1,201,450 so far for motorcycles, trailers, state vehicles and other special uses.

Strange as it may seem, we put dehumidified air in our telephone cables and keep the pressure constant with a pump. If a cable sheathing is pierced or fractured, air seeps out, the pressure drops, and we know about it in time to make repairs before damaging moisture can creep in and possibly put your phone out of commission. This may sound like going to extremes. Actually, it's another example of how Gen Tel people and equipment work continuously to keep your phone in perfect working order.

Williamsport Is Defeated By Frankfort

91-81 Verdict Is 1st Home Court Loss of Season for Deers

The Williamsport Deers went down to defeat for the fourth time this season last night, losing to visiting Frankfort, 91-81.

For the Glenn Chester coached quintet, bad luck seems to come in pairs. Early in the season they lost to Logan Elm and Centralia in successive games. Saturday the Deers lost to Chillicothe Bishop Flaget and last night to Frankfort. Three of the schools which have bested the Williamsport five have been Ross County aggregations. The Deers now have an overall record of 12 wins and four losses for the season. It was the first home court loss of the season for Williamsport.

Larry Beard paced the Williamsport offense with 26 points on 13 field goals. Game scoring laurels went to Charles Bower of Frankfort who tossed in 14 field goals and two charity tosses.

The Deers committed 23 turnovers in the first half and trailed 53-29 at intermission.

They outscored the winners in both of the last two periods, but couldn't overcome the 24-point halftime deficit. From the field, the Deers hit 37 of 84 attempts for a 44 per cent average.

At the foul line, they connected on seven of 15 shots while the winners hit 11 of 22.

Rick Fenstermaker, who injured his knee in a practice scrimmage last week and saw only limited action against Bishop Flaget, did not suit up last night.

Chester said the high scoring guard had not practiced this week as yet but he thought he would be ready for action for Saturday's game with Teays Valley. Friday the Deers travel to Ohio Deaf.

In the reserve game, the visiting jayvee unit came up with a 47-39 win.

The Williamsport eagers, Bruce Willis and Roger Clark, received scalp lacerations during the game. They were treated at the emergency room of Berger Hospital.

Liston Explains His Increased Popularity

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Well, nobody can beat me so I guess the people decided to join me."

This was Sonny Liston's reaction when someone remarked at a news conference Tuesday that the sometimes surly heavyweight champion's popularity seemed to be on the rise.

Liston started his on-site training for the Feb. 25 fight with Clay by staging a 10-round workout before a full house in the 300-seat Surfside Community Center.

Andy Komer holds the career (1,085) and season (315) rebound records at Carnegie Tech. He operated between 1957 and 1961.

Lakers Hurt By Loss of Jerry West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jerry West's broken thumb may turn out to be Los Angeles' toughest handicap since Sandy Koufax wrecked his index finger two years ago.

When the Dodgers' ace southpaw injured the pitching-hand finger in 1962, LA blew a baseball pennant. Now the Lakers of the National Basketball Association are in danger of losing their Western Division title grip because of West's damaged digit.

The Lakers missed West's 29.6 scoring average Tuesday night when Detroit's last-place Pistons cut them down, 93-92. With West on the firing line, Los Angeles had been scoring 111.3 points a game. With West out — result of a collision with Wilt Chamberlain Sunday — the Lakers were puny, despite knee-sore Elgin Baylor's 25 points.

The defeat sliced the Lakers' Western lead to two games over idle St. Louis and 2½ over San Francisco, which walloped Philadelphia 139-117 behind Chamberlain's 59-point binge.

New York, the NBA's Eastern tailenders, surprised league-leading Boston 133-127 in the only other game.

Redleg Catcher Due For Cincinnati Honor
CINCINNATI (AP)—Catcher Johnny Edwards of the Cincinnati Reds, who led the National League catchers in fielding last year, will be honored Feb. 8 by Cincinnati's Ballplayers of Yesterday.

Ival Goodman, a former Reds' outfielder, will present Edwards an award declaring him the "National League all-star catcher for 1963." It will be made at the group's annual banquet.

Clark County Coroner To Give Up Position
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Austin A. Richards, Clark County coroner since 1932, has decided to give up the job. Richards said Tuesday he will not seek re-election this year and will devote full time to a funeral parlor he operates here.

Ohio law now requires all new coroners to be physicians. Richards is one of only three in Ohio who are not physicians.

Tigers To Play Final Road Tilt

Circleville plays its final road game of the season Friday, when the Tiger cagers travel to Greenfield McClain High School.

Circleville has a firm grip on the South Central Ohio League cellar with a 1-8 league slate. The McClain Tigers are tied with Miami Trace for fourth spot in the league.

On Dec. 6, the date of the first meeting between the SCO's two Tiger teams, the Greenfield unit came up with a 60-52 decision.

Jim Garrison, 6-foot, a left-handed junior forward, played an important part for McClain in that meeting. He came up with 21 points to lead all scorers.

SINCE then, the Red and Black Tigers have been able to best only Franklin Heights, 57-55.

John Thomas is currently pacing the Circleville offense with a 17.6 scoring average in the league and a 15-point average in all 14 games the Red and Black has played. He has a total of 211 points.

Tom Smith has scored 182 points for Circleville. He is averaging 10.6 points per game in the league.

Other Tiger scorers are Bob Purcell with 126, Chet lery with 84, John Maxwell, with 70, Tom Tootle, with 46, Charlie Lewis with 40, Dave Bass with 33, Ron Seward with 34, Doug Roth with 30, Dick Butz with 13 and Doug Dunkel and Doug Price with one each.

Following Friday's tilt, the remaining four games for Circleville will be at home. In spite of its poor record, Circleville has been enjoying one of its best years at the box office.

THE REMAINING home tilts are against Hillsboro, Franklin Heights and Washington C. H.

Elsewhere around the league this weekend, Washington C.H. is at Pleasant View, Franklin Heights travels to Hillsboro and defending co-champions Wilmington and Miami Trace clash on the latter's court.

The only game scheduled Saturday finds Wilmington stepping out of the league to play Hamilton Taff.

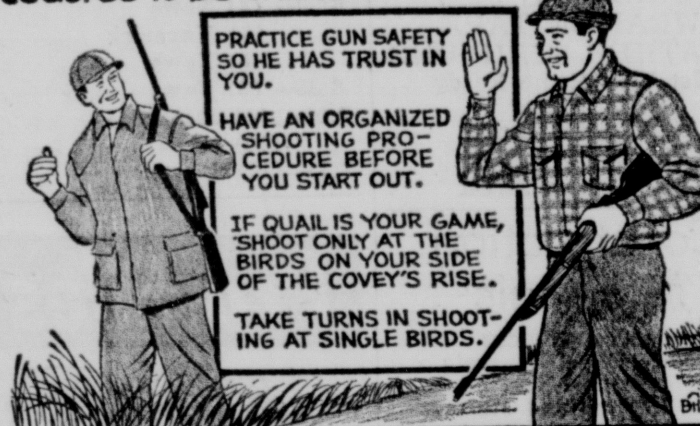

Pleasant View is currently leading the SCO with an 8-1 record. However, the loss for the Panthers placed challenging Hillsboro, 6-2, and Wilmington, 6-3, in much better position in the loop race.

Both the second and third place teams will be watching the game at Pleasant View. Hillsboro will have the advantage of playing both Wilmington and Pleasant View in the tiny Indian gymnasium.

The Laurelville Wildcats picked up their third win of the season last night, defeating visiting Zaleski of Vinton County, 69-43.

The Wildcats hit a hot 53 per cent of their field goal attempts, sinking 31 of 58.

The visitors took only 36 shots from the field, hitting 15 for a 42 per cent average. The winners also controlled the boards, pulling down 34 rebounds.

John Young, high scorer for Laurelville, matched Zaleski's rebounding total for 17 by himself. Young hit eight field goals and four charity tosses.

IN THE third quarter when the Wildcats outscored the losers 24-7, Kenny Disbennett swished the nets six times from the field in six attempts. He was seven for 10 for the game.

The score saw the Wildcats trailing, 12-11 at the end of the first period. By halftime they had rolled to a 30-22 lead and were well out front, 54-29, as the final quarter began.

The host team also won the reserve game. The Wildcat jayvee unit topped Zaleski 51-17.

Texas Aggies Are Tagged SW Conference Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the first time in 40 years the surprising Texas Aggies are in a good position to win the undisputed basketball championship of the Southwest Conference.

Despite a 73-65 defeat by independent Houston Tuesday night the Aggies are 3-0 in league competition, including a victory over defending champion Texas, and figure to go all the way in Shelby Metcalf's first year as head coach.

The game helped highlight another slim national program on the college hardwoods. Fifth-ranked Vanderbilt, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, romped against Arkansas State 108-73.

Wisconsin beat Marquette 72-68, Providence whipped Santa Clara 82-71, Auburn nipped Florida State 63-59, Drake ended Iowa State 63-53, Xavier, Ohio, downed Canisius 104-84, George Washington drubbed Centenary 88-69, Arizona State defeated Los Angeles Loyola 82-64, Miami, Fla. rolled over Rollins 127-85 and Washington nipped Oregon 69-67 in two overtimes.

Steve Thomas, the nation's fourth highest scorer, flipped in 42 points for Xavier as the Musketeers set two school records in downing Canisius.

Thomas sank all 16 of his free throw tries for one Xavier record, and Bob Pelkington pulled down 30 rebounds for the other mark.

The game was tied five times early in the first half, but Canisius couldn't keep up with the taller Musketeers, who held a halftime lead of 52-40. Tony Gennari was high for Canisius with 35 points.

Four other games involving Ohio teams were played Tuesday night.

Hiram won an Ohio Conference game from Heidelberg, 69-65; Oberlin defeated Allegheny in overtime, 68-65; Defiance's late rally fell short and the Yellowjackets lost to Tri-State (Ind.), 75-73, and Cedarville rolled over Penn, 93-77.

Hiram's victory was its second in eight games in the Ohio Conference. Heidelberg is 1-6 in loop play.

Jerry West's broken thumb may turn out to be Los Angeles' toughest handicap since Sandy Koufax wrecked his index finger two years ago.

When the Dodgers' ace southpaw injured the pitching-hand finger in 1962, LA blew a baseball pennant. Now the Lakers of the National Basketball Association are in danger of losing their Western Division title grip because of West's damaged digit.

The Lakers missed West's 29.6 scoring average Tuesday night when Detroit's last-place Pistons cut them down, 93-92. With West on the firing line, Los Angeles had been scoring 111.3 points a game. With West out — result of a collision with Wilt Chamberlain Sunday — the Lakers were puncheonless, despite knee-sore Elgin Baylor's 25 points.

The defeat sliced the Lakers' Western lead to two games over idle St. Louis and 2½ over San Francisco, which walloped Philadelphia 139-117 behind Chamberlain's 59-point binge.

New York, the NBA's Eastern tailenders, surprised league-leading Boston 123-127 in the only other game.

Redleg Catcher Due For Cincinnati Honor

CINCINNATI (AP)—Catcher Johnny Edwards of the Cincinnati Reds, who led the National League catchers in fielding last year, will be honored Feb. 8 by Cincinnati's Ballplayers of Yesterday.

Ival Goodman, a former Reds' outfielder, will present Edwards an award declaring him the "National League all-star catcher for 1963." It will be made at the group's annual banquet.

Clark County Coroner To Give Up Position

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Austin A. Richards, Clark County coroner since 1932, has decided to give up the job. Richards said Tuesday he will not seek re-election this year and will devote full time to a funeral parlor he operates here.

Ohio law now requires all new coroners to be physicians. Richards is one of only three in Ohio who are not physicians.

Tigers To Play Final Road Tilt

Circleville plays its final road game of the season Friday, when the Tiger cagers travel to Greenfield McClain High School.

Circleville has a firm grip on the South Central Ohio League cellar with a 1-8 league slate. The McClain Tigers are tied with Miami Trace for fourth spot in the league.

On Dec. 6, the date of the first meeting between the SCO's two Tiger teams, the Greenfield unit came up with a 60-52 decision.

Jim Garrison, 6-foot, a left-handed junior forward, played an important part for McClain in that meeting. He came up with 21 points to lead all scorers.

SINCE then, the Red and Black Tigers have been able to best only Franklin Heights, 57-55.

John Thomas is currently pacing the Circleville offense with a 17.6 scoring average in the league and a 15-point average in all 14 games the Red and Black has played. He has a total of 211 points.

Tom Smith has scored 182 points for Circleville. He is averaging 10.6 points per game in the league.

Other Tiger scorers are Bob Purcell with 126, Chet Ivery with 84, John Maxwell, with 70, Tom Tootle, with 46, Charlie Lewis with 40, Dave Bass with 33, Ron Seward with 34, Doug Roth with 30, Dick Butz with 13 and Doug Dunkel and Doug Price with one each.

Following Friday's tilt, the remaining four games for Circleville will be at home.

In spite of its poor record, Circleville has been enjoying one of its best years at the box office.

THE REMAINING home tilts are against Hillsboro, Franklin Heights and Washington C. H. Elsewhere around the league this weekend, Washington C. H. is at Pleasant View, Franklin Heights travels to Hillsboro and defending co-champions Wilmington and Miami Trace clash on the latter's court.

The only game scheduled Saturday finds Wilmington stepping out of the league to play Hamilton Taft.

Pleasant View is currently leading the SCO with an 8-1 record. However, the loss for the Panthers placed challenging Hillsboro, 6-2, and Wilmington, 6-3, in much better position in the loop race.

Both the second and third place teams will be watching the game at Pleasant View Hillsboro will have the advantage of playing both Wilmington and Pleasant View in the tiny Indian gymnasium.

Wildcats Post 3rd Win; Down Zaleski, 69-43

The Laurelvie Wildcats picked up their third win of the season last night, defeating visiting Zaleski of Vinton County, 69-43.

The Wildcats hit a hot 53 per cent of their field goal attempts, sinking 31 of 58.

The visitors took only 36 shots from the field, hitting 15 for a 42 per cent average. The winners also controlled the boards, pulling down 34 rebounds.

John Young, high scorer for Laurelvie, matched Zaleski's rebounding total for 17 by himself. Young hit eight field goals and four charity tosses.

IN THE third quarter when the Wildcats outscored the losers 24-7, Kenny Disbennett swished the nets six times from the field in six attempts. He was seven for 10 for the game.

The score saw the Wildcats trailing, 12-11 at the end of the first period. By halftime they had rolled to a 30-22 lead and were well out front, 54-29, as the final quarter began.

The host team also won the reserve game. The Wildcat jayvee unit toppled Zaleski 51-17.

Saturday Laurelvie will play at Centralia.

Springfield Held For Hammer Beating

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Paul Hamilton, 39, of Springfield has been charged with intent to kill in the hammer beating of his wife and daughter. Mrs. Hamilton and the couple's 15-year-old daughter, Dorothy, still are in critical condition as a result of the beatings.

Texas Aggies Are Tagged SW Conference Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the first time in 40 years the surprising Texas Aggies are in a good position to win the undisputed basketball championship of the Southwest Conference.

Despite a 73-65 defeat by independent Houston Tuesday night the Aggies are 3-0 in league competition, including a victory over defending champion Texas, and figure to go all the way in Shelby Metcalf's first year as head coach.

The game helped highlight another slim national program on the college hardwoods. Fifth-ranked Vanderbilt, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, romped against Arkansas State 108-73.

Wisconsin beat Marquette 72-68, Providence whipped Santa Clara 82-71, Auburn nipped Florida State 63-59, Drake upended Iowa State 63-53, Xavier, Ohio, downed Canisius 104-84, George Washington drubbed Centenary 88-69, Arizona State defeated Los Angeles Loyola 82-64, Miami, Fla. rolled over Rollins 127-85 and Washington nipped Oregon 69-67 in two overtimes.

Steve Thomas, the nation's fourth highest scorer, flipped in 42 points for Xavier as the Musketeers set two school records in downing Canisius.

Thomas sank all 16 of his free throw tries for one Xavier record, and Bob Pelkington pulled down 30 rebounds for the other mark.

The game was tied five times early in the first half, but Canisius couldn't keep up with the taller Musketeers, who held a halftime lead of 52-40. Tony Gennari was high for Canisius with 35 points.

Four other games involving Ohio teams were played Tuesday night.

Hiram won an Ohio Conference game from Heidelberg, 69-65; Oberlin defeated Allegheny in overtime, 68-65; Defiance's late rally fell short and the Yellowjackets lost to Tri-State (Ind.), 75-73, and Cedarville rolled over Fenn, 93-77.

Hiram's victory was its second in eight games in the Ohio Conference. Heidelberg is 1-6 in loop play.

Winter Olympic Games Open in Austrian Alps

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The ninth Winter Olympic Games, plagued by lack of snow and under the shadow of two tragic training deaths, opened today in traditional splendor.

The 1,260 athletes from 35 nations paraded at the base of the spectacular Berg Isel ski jump and dipped the national colors as Paul Aste, Austrian bobsledder, took the Olympic oath of amateurism and sportsmanship on behalf of all competitors.

The torch that burns until the Games end Feb. 9 was lit by Josl Rieder, a former Austrian world ski champion.

The big Russian team is expected to dominate these Games just as it did those at Squaw Valley, California, four years ago when the Soviets won seven gold medals, five silver and nine bronze. Strong competition will come from Germany, Norway and Austria.

The United States, which won three firsts at Squaw Valley, is pinning most of its hopes on Jean Saubert, the sturdy Oregon girl who is among the world's best in the slalom and downhill ski races.

Hockey competition is already under way and tonight the first championship of the Games will be settled — the pairs figure skating.

Thursday there will be the men's 30 kilometer cross-country race, women's 500 meter speedskating, and the men's downhill ski race.

On hand were Dr. Adolf Scharf, president of Austria, Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, Prof. Friedl Wolfgang, secretary general of these Games, and international sports officials.

The opening ceremonies followed rigid Olympic protocol.

Flags of the 35 competing nations were run up as the Austrian national anthem was played. The white Olympic flag with the five interlocking circles that flew at Squaw Valley was ceremoniously brought in and presented to Dr. Alois Lugger, mayor of Innsbruck.

Only on the jagged peaks of the Tyrolean Alps that ring Innsbruck can snow be seen in abundance, but enough has been brought in by Austrian soldiers to provide an adequate surface for the ski and jumping events on the lower slopes.

Harassed Austrian officials fear that if the white stuff does start falling now it will only complicate matters.

Never before has tragedy struck the Games so early and so hard. Ross Milne, Australian skier, and Kazimierz Kay-Skrzypczek, a Pole who became a British citizen and took up bobsledding, were both killed in pre-Olympic training here. A dozen or so others have been injured, some seriously.

Many fear that the hard-packed and icy snow brought here for the Games will produce further mishaps.

The opening day's program was limited to give most competitors a chance to participate in the traditional inaugural ceremonies but it was a program likely to please the fans.

The hockey schedule started off with what could be the most crucial match of the games. The United States, surprise winner of the 1960 title, was pitted against powerful Russia, the current world champions. They met at 7:30 a.m. EST.

In two other matches in the round robin championship meet Czechoslovakia faced Germany and Canada confronted Switzerland.

The first gold medal of the games was at stake in the pairs figure skating tonight, and world champions Marika Kilius and Hans-Juergen Baumeier of Germany were the favorites.

But they faced a strong challenge from Russia's Ludmila Belousova and Oleg Protopopov and Canada's Debbi Wilkes and Guy Revell.

They drew the second skating position in the field of 17. The Soviet champions skate ninth and the Canadians tenth.

Since there is no compulsory portion to pair skating, the panel of nine judges must rank the couples entirely on the basis of their five-minute free skating programs tonight. Skaters generally feel the judges are reluctant to give early competitors high marks. Skaters also like to compete as late as possible so they can first see what their rivals do.

Experts here figure a second Russian couple, Tatiana Zhuk and Alexander Gravilov, stand the best chance of finishing fourth after the three favored pairs.

The three U.S. brother-sister teams hope to fight it out for fifth place.

Judianne and Jerry Fotheringill of Tacoma, Wash., and Vivian and Ronald Joseph of Highland Park, Ill. seem the best bets. They have been 1-2 in the past two U.S. championships, and placed 7-8 last year in the world meet. The third U.S. entry is Cynthia and Ronald Kauffman of Seattle.

The Fotheringills skate 11th, the Josephs 17th and last and the Kauffmans 15th.

Former Navy end Dick Duden coached the Annapolis plebs this fall.

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC has announced its 1964-65 television schedule. CBS will make its announcement within a few days. ABC, will have to follow suit soon.

NBC's unexpectedly early announcement concerned only new shows. The television networks never, or almost never, announce program deaths. Ten new programs — more than a third of its evening programming — will be presented and some remaining programs put in new time periods.

To make room for the new in September or October, a number of current shows must depart. Among those which, the announcement indicated, will disappear after summer reruns are "Sing Along With Mitch," "The 11th Hour," "The Joey Bishop Show," and "Show of the Week."

Discarded after one short season are "The Bill Dana Show," "Grindl," "The Richard Boone Show," "Espionage," "Temple

Houston," and "The Lieutenant."

On two evenings NBC proposes to fill the time with only two shows between 7:30 and 11. It plans six hours a week of feature length films—two hours of old movies on Monday and Saturday nights and also a two-hour feature anthology series on Wednesday nights. One new 90 minute series, "90 Bristol Court," will consist of three related stories and will be followed by a two-hour movie.

Other new shows in the schedule are an adventure series called "The Rogues," costarring David Niven, Charles Boyer and Gig Young; "Solo," an action adventure series created by Ian Fleming, "The 13th Gate," a science fiction effort. Five half-hour comedies will be slipped into the schedule here and there. A variety hour on Tuesday night is expected to star either Andy Williams or Joey Bishop.

At CBS, the big excitement is that Ed Sullivan will expand his Sunday night hour to 90 minutes starting April 5. The network insists this is a permanent change and not a temporary expedient to plug half of the hole left by the departure of Judy Garland.

ABC's bright new "Hollywood Palace" is a television vaudeville show that gives comedians a chance to be really funny and singers enough time to sing more than one chorus. It is Sullivan's first real competition in years and he may truly welcome a chance to expand his show.

The fate of "East Side, West Side" finally was decided. It had been hanging by a thread and CBS cut it before the audience even had a chance to sample a desperate 11th-hour change in format.

Recommended tonight: "The Danny Thomas Show," CBS, 10-11 EST.

Pete Liske set a Penn State record last fall when he completed 19 passes (he threw 26) in a 17-14 victory over UCLA.

500 Golfers Enter Palm Springs Test

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Defending champion Jack Nicklaus and more than 500 other golfers were here today to start the tournament that doesn't know when to quit.

It's the Palm Springs Classic, an event whose format suggests it was conceived by the same guy who originated the trans-pacific underwater bicycle race.

Actually, it's a very ordinary golf tournament, except that it runs five days and is the only 90-hole event on the PGA tour—and that it is played on four different courses simultaneously—and that it is really 18 tournaments in one.

The nearly 11 dozen professionals entered will compete for about $100,000 in prize money. Of this, $50,000 will be distributed Sunday to leading scorers in the 90-hole tournament proper. The winner will get $7,500.

The rest will be divided up a little at a time, during the 17-part pro-amateur event that runs through Saturday.

In addition, an insurance company promises a $10,000 bonus to any pro who makes a hole-in-one. Tournament sponsors offered a $50,000 hole-in-one prize in previous years. But they had to take out a $50,000 insurance policy to cover themselves and, after a few payoffs, the premium got so high they decided to drop the gimmick.

This is the fifth PGA tournament of the year and winners of three of the previous four are here. They are Art Wall Jr., who won the San Diego open; Tony Lema, winner of the Bing Crosby tournament, and Chi Chi Rodriguez, who won the Lucky Invitational at San Francisco, defeating Don January in a playoff Monday.

Arnold Palmer, who won the first Palm Springs Classic in 1960 and repeated in 1962, is back again. So is Billy Maxwell, the 1961 winner.

Last year, the event went 108 holes, Nicklaus defeating Gary Player in an 18-hole playoff. If there is a tie at the end of 90 holes this year, there will be a sudden death playoff the same day.

Oldest pitcher on the staff of the New York Mets is Carl Willey, 31. He won 9, lost 14 last season.

OSP Study Lists Speed as Major Cause of Wrecks

The most dangerous highway in Pickaway County is Route 23, and speed causes more accidents than any other single factor.

These two facts were brought to light by a report of accidents in Pickaway County investigated by the State Highway Patrol during 1963.

When making the report, Sgt. S. L. Adamaitis, local post commander, noted that OSP officers could investigate accidents on all public roads and highways outside of incorporated municipalities.

The main function of the State Highway Patrol is to prevent accidents, Sgt. Adamaitis said. And with this in mind patrol officers are constantly on the road.

DURING 1963 patrol officers made a total of 1,286 arrests on county highways. Of these arrests, three-fourths were citations issued for speeding.

Of the 215 accidents investigated, speed was listed as the cause in 95 instances. Residents of Pickaway County were involved in 109 mishaps, and 72 of the accidents occurred on Route 23.

The sergeant emphasized the fact that Route 23 is heavily traveled by persons who do not reside in the county. But still more than one-half of the accident involve county residents.

In the accidents investigated, 89 persons were injured and four killed.

Weekends proved to be particularly hazardous, beginning early Friday evening and running through Monday morning.

The heaviest accident toll was on Saturday, when 39 of the mishaps occurred. Sunday crashes totaled 35 and those on Friday amounted to 34.

THE MOST dangerous times were from 8 a. m. until noon and from 4 p. m. until 8 p. m.

Sgt. Adamaitis pointed out that studies of records and recommendations of the State Highway Patrol frequently resulted in engineering changes. He cited the erection of traffic control signals at dangerous intersections as an example.

The two most dangerous intersections in Pickaway County are at the junctions of Route 104 and 22 and the junction of County Road 511 and Route 23.
